ADVENTURE

ADV ♪ Against Cold Steel

Hoyt, Edwin P.   LP-2588

When Stephen Decatur received his commission to captain after the firing of the Philadelphia, he had little time to bask in glory. The spring of 1804 saw the bloody continuation of the Tripolitan Wars, and the bashaw of Tripoli was not about to give up Mediterranean piracy and forced tributes without a battle. And battle was precisely what the U.S. Navy had in store for him. Before the merciless summer sun surrendered to an arid Barbary autumn, Captain Stephen Decatur would lead one of the most brilliant gunboat attacks ever logged in the annals of naval history.

Albrecht, Kathy   LP-2771

Kat Albrecht is the only law-enforcement based pet detective in the United States. Since 1997, Albrecht and her search dogs have located lost cats, dogs, ferrets, turtles, horses, and other species using techniques that are normally used to solve missing person investigations. Full of heartwarming and inspiring tales of rescue, The Lost Pet Chronicles tells the story of Kat's unlikely career path and of how discovering the work she loved transformed her from a dissatisfied cop into a woman with a true personal and professional calling.

ANI ☯ Marley & Me

Grogan, John   LP-2944

John and Jenny were just beginning their life together. Then they brought home Marley, a wiggly yellow fur ball of a puppy. Life would never be the same. Marley grew into a barreling, ninety-seven-pound steamroller of a Labrador retriever. He crashed through screen doors, gouged through drywall, and stole women's undergarments. Obedience school did no good, Marley was expelled. But just as Marley joyfully refused any limits on his behavior, his love and loyalty were boundless, too. Marley remained a model of devotion, even when his family was at its wit's end. Unconditional love, they would learn, comes in many forms.

BIO ☯ Jackie After Jack

Andersen, Christopher LP-2143

Jackie Kennedy was only thirty-four when Camelot ended with a blaze of gunfire on November 22, 1963. Here Christopher Andersen draws on previously sealed archival material and newly declassified documents to paint a sympathetic, yet often startling portrait of Jackie in all her complexity. Alone after Dallas, Jackie summoned the strength and dignity to go on.

BIO ☯ Sweet Caroline: Last Child of Camelot

Andersen, Christopher LP-2811

Through it all, the sole surviving member of Camelot's First Family, Caroline Kennedy, has remained largely a mystery. Until now. Christopher Andersen draws on important sources to provide a full, compelling portrait of Caroline, the young wife and mother left to carry on in her legendary family's name.

BIO ☯ The Day Diana Died

Andersen, Christopher LP-2227

The death of Diana, Princess of Wales, is a defining benchmark in history. More than a year after the fatal car crash, millions around the world still remain in shock. During the sixteen years since her wedding to Prince Charles, she had evolved from "Shy Di" to the most famous person in the world. For all her fame, much of the human drama that swirled around her death remains veiled in intrigue. The author draws upon important sources, many of whom have agreed to speak here for the first time, to re-create the events leading up to that fateful night.

BIO ♀ Princess Grace

Bradford, Sarah LP-2079

Princess Grace will be remembered as a fairy-tale heroine, the shy convent girl from Philadelphia who achieved stunning success as an actress, then abandoned her career in films, at age twenty-six, to marry the ruler of a tiny principality perched high above the Mediterranean Sea. Only a woman trained and devoted to duty could have given it all up for an even greater role: Her serene Highness, Princess Grace of Monaco.

BIO ♀ All Over but the Shoutin'

Bragg, Rick LP-2103

A haunting memoir by a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist, "All Over but the Shoutin'" presents a gripping account of people struggling to make sense and solidity of life's capricious promises. As he tells the wrenching story of his own family's life in the dirt-poor Alabama hills, where he got out, but has never been quite about to leave, Bragg attempts to both atone for and to avenge the mistakes and cruelties of his past.

BIO ♀ Marilyn: The Last Take

Brown, Peter LP-0209

BIO ⓘ West with the Night

Markham, Beryl   LP-2045

"West with the Night" is a fascination and a mystery. Briefly, the book is an episodic account of some thirty Africa years, from childhood to 1936, in the life of an amazing woman.

BIO ⓘ My Life with Groucho: Growing Up with the Marx

Marx, Arthur   LP-0163

The remarkable, sometimes tragic story of this Hollywood legend is told here with gritty, compelling, but honest detail by Groucho's son, Arthur.

BIO ⓘ 'Tis: A Memoir

Mc Court, Frank   LP-2110

The sequel to the Pulitzer Prize-winning "Angela's Ashes, " McCourt's glowing memoir chronicles his story from impoverished immigrant to brilliant raconteur and schoolteacher, a tale of survival as vivid, harrowing, and often hilarious as its bestselling predecessor.

BIO ⓘ Mornings on Horseback

Mc Cullough, David   LP-2057

From the diaries and letters of the Roosevelt family, David Mc Cullough sketches a brilliant and intimate portrait of the young Teddy Roosevelt and his growth to manhood.

BIO ⓘ John Paul the Great

Noonan, Peggy   LP-3261

The author brings her sharp observations, acute sensibility, warmth, and wit to the life of the pope and shows the personal effect his journey had upon her and millions of others. Written with heart and depth, this is at once a moving elegy and a brilliant celebration of a man whose life taught others how to live.

BIO ⓘ Leap of Faith

Noor, Queen   LP-2945

This is the story of a young American woman who became wife and partner to an Arab monarch. It provides a compelling portrait of the late King Hussein and his lifelong effort to bring peace to his war torn region, and an insider's view of the growing gulf between the United States and the Arab nations. It is also the refreshingly candid story of a mother coming to terms with the demands the king's role as a world statesman placed on her family's private life. But most of all it is a love story, the intimate account of a woman who lost her heart to a king, and to his people.

BIO ☯ 90 Minutes in Heaven: A True Story of Death & Life

FAN ♀ Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince

Rowling, J. K. LP-2946

(Harry Potter, Book 6) (Also available in regular print (AS-0052)). Sixth-year Hogwarts student Harry Potter gains valuable insights into the boy Voldemort once was, even as his own world is transformed by maturing friendships, schoolwork assistance from an unexpected source, and devastating losses.

FAN ♀ Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix

Rowling, J. K. LP-2634

(Harry Potter, Book 5) (Also available in regular print (AO-326)). The phenomenal bestseller is now in paperback. In his fifth year at Hogwart's, 15-year-old Harry faces challenges at every turn, from the dark threat of He-Who-Must-Not-Be-Named to the rise of Ron Weasley as the keeper of the Gryffindor Quidditch Team.

FAN ⓘ Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets

Rowling, J. K.   LP-2247

(Harry Potter, Book 2) (Also available in regular print (BB-2986)). In the second book of the Harry Potter series, the author takes up where she left off with Harry's second year at the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry. Old friends and new torments abound, including a spirit named Moaning Myrtle who haunts the girls' bathroom, an outrageously conceited professor, Gilderoy Lockheart, and a mysterious force that turns Hogwarts students to stone.

FAN ⓘ Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban

Rowling, J. K.   LP-2305

(Harry Potter, Book 3) (Also available in regular print (BB-3125)). The third book in J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter series catapults into action when the young wizard "accidentally" causes the Dursleys' dreadful visitor Aunt Marge to inflate like a monstrous balloon and drift up to the ceiling. Fearing punishment from Aunt Petunia and Uncle Vernon (and from officials at Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry who strictly forbid students to cast spells in the nonmagic world of Muggles), Harry lunges out into the darkness with his heavy trunk and his owl Hedwig.

FAN ⓘ Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire

Rowling, J. K.   LP-2432

(Harry Potter, Book 4)(Also available in regular print (AE-0086)). The 4th book of the Harry Potter series, Harry Potter wants to get away from the pernicious Dursleys and go to the International Quidditch Cup with Hermione, Ron, and the Weasleys. He wants to dream about Cho Chang, his crush. He wants to find out about the mysterious event that's supposed to take place at Hogwarts this year, an event involving two other rival schools of magic and a competition that hasn't happened for a hundred years. He wants to be a normal, fourteen-year-old wizard. Unfortunately for Harry, he's not normal, even by wizarding standards. And in his case, different can be deadly.

FAN ⓘ Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone

Rowling, J. K.   LP-2170

(Harry Potter, Book 1) (Also available in regular print (BB-2836)). Harry Potter has never played a sport while flying on a broomstick. He's never worn a cloak of invisibility, befriended a giant, or helped hatch a dragon. All Harry knows is a miserable life with the Dursleys, his horrible aunt and uncle, and their abominable son, Dudley. All that is about to change when a mysterious letter arrives by owl messenger, an invitation to a wonderful place he never dreamed existed, there he finds friends, aerial sports, and magic around every corner.

FAN ☯ Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows

Rowling, J. K.   LP-3249

(Harry Potter, Book 7) The heart of Book 7 is a hero's mission, not just in Harry's quest for the Horcruxes, but in his journey from boy to man, and Harry faces more danger than that found in all six books combined, from the direct threat of the Death Eaters and you-know-who, to the subtle perils of losing faith in himself. Attentive readers would do well to remember Dumbledore's warning about making the choice between "what is right and what is easy," and know that Rowling applies the same difficult principle to the conclusion of her series.

The Palazzo Bobolino seems to have attracted a selection of British waifs and strays, all determined to experience the "real" Italy. Miranda has fallen once before for Venice's false charms, and she's not about to make the same mistake twice. Venice may have passion and a flair for melodrama, but Miranda would much rather settle for tea and toast than a cappuccino any day of the week.

FIC ☯ Mutiny on the Bounty

Nordhoff, Charles LP-2030

The story of H. M. S. Bounty, which set sail from England in 1787, bound for Tahiti. In charge was Lieutenant Bligh, a harsh taskmaster. Interminable storms lengthened the voyage, rations ran low, and as his temper increased, Bligh raged at his underfed and embittered crew. The halcyon days that followed their eventual arrival in Tahiti, the soothing influence of the women, and the fresh food, quieted the men. But shortly after the return voyage had begun, Bligh's tyranny once more brought rebellion to the breaking point, and with the island still fresh in their memory, the men suddenly rose in mutiny.

FIC ♀ Dark Lady

Patterson, Richard N.   LP-2172

In a steel-mill town on the verge of an economic comeback, two prominent men are found dead within days of each other. In each case, the known character of the man seems grossly more contradicted by the circumstances of his death. But, as assistant county prosecutor Stella Marz discovers, the victims and their deaths may be connected in ways that no one would ever suspect.

FIC ♀ Silent Witness

Patterson, Richard N.   LP-2111

Patterson's most stunning novel to date offers a powerful portrayal of the complexities of male friendship, of the darkest recesses of love, and of the ways in which the past stakes its claim upon the present. When attorney Tony Lord returns to his hometown to defend his former high school best friend who's been accused of murder, Tony is plunged into the unfinished business of his past.

FIC ♀ A Christmas Beginning

Perry, Anne   LP-3319

Spending his Christmas holidays on the remote island of Anglesey, off the north coast of Wales, Superintendent Runcorn is called in to investigate when the sister of the local vicar is found murdered and draped over a gravestone in her brother's churchyard.

FIC ♀ Guardian of the Horizon

Peters, Elizabeth   LP-2702

Recounts the adventures of Amelia Peabody and the Emerson family in 1907 and 1908, a period following their banishment from the Valley of the Kings, during which Ramses, hopelessly in love with Nefret, finds his plans interrupted by a plea for help from Prince Tarek from the Lost Oasis.

FIC ♀ Ain't She Sweet?

Phillips, Susan E.   LP-2648

(Also available in regular print (AR-0223)). The girl everybody loves to hate has returned to the town she'd sworn to leave behind forever. As the rich, spoiled princess of Parrish, Mississippi, Sugar Beth Carey had broken hearts, ruined friendships, and destroyed reputations. But 15 years have passed, now she's come home, broke, desperate, and too proud to show it.

FIC ♀ Another View

FIC ♀ Redeeming Love

Rivers, Francine LP-3179

The heroine, Angel, is a young woman who was sold into prostitution as a child. Michael Hosea is a godly man sent into Angel's life to draw her into the Savior's redeeming love. Angel expects nothing from men but betrayal. She survives by keeping her hatred alive and what she hates most are the men who use her, leaving her empty and dead inside. Then she meets Michael Hosea, a man who seeks his Father's heart in everything. Michael obeys God's call to marry Angel and to love her unconditionally.

FIC ♀ The Atonement Child

Rivers, Francine LP-2507

In one horrific, terrifying moment, Dynah Carey's perfect life is shattered by rape, her future irrevocably altered by an unwanted pregnancy, her doting family torn apart. Her seemingly rock-solid faith is pushed to the limits as she faces the most momentous choice of her life, to embrace or end the untimely life within her.

FIC ♀ The Prince

Rivers, Francine LP-3321

Each novella in this new series from beloved author Rivers tells the story of one of five biblical men who stood behind the great heroes of the faith: Aaron the priest, Caleb the warrior, Jonathan the prince, Amos the prophet, and Silas the scribe.

FIC ♀ The Prophet

Rivers, Francine LP-3322

Behind the men who shaped history are the heroes who forever changed it. In The Prophet Francine Rivers tells the story of Amos, a man of solitude who felt at home among the hills, a man of conviction who heard when God called, a man of fortitude who spoke to a nation unwilling to listen. Before the Israelites rebelled against God and were devoured by war, they were warned by Amos, a prophet who refused to turn away.

FIC ♀ The Scribe

Rivers, Francine LP-3387

After the death and resurrection of Jesus, Peter and Paul preached to the nations, carrying Christ's message to all who would listen. But when they were silenced, it was their scribe who brought their words to future generations. The Scribe tells the story of Silas, the man behind the spotlight who recorded most of the New Testament Scriptures we read today. Five men answered God's call to serve Him faithfully without recognition or fame. They gave everything, knowing that their reward might not come until the next life.

FIC ☯ Carolina Moon

Roberts, Nora LP-2244

FIC ♀ Pearl Steinbeck, John LP-2032

For the diver Kino, finding a magnificent pearl means the promise of a better life for his impoverished family. His dreams blind him to the greed that the pearl arouses in him and his neighbors. Baring the fallacy of the American dream, that wealth erases all problems, Steinbeck's classic illustrates our fall from innocence.

FIC ♀ The Fair Vision Stewart, Eleanor LP-2260

Most of the 102 passengers on the "Mayflower" traveled in one main cabin that measured 25 x 80 feet. They were Separatists, whose goal was to attain freedom, personal, social, economic and spiritual. They had financed their passage by indenturing themselves to the London merchants who paid their fare. With little understanding of the local wildlife, little skill at hunting, fishing, or growing food in the new land, the colonists had to make peace with the often warring Indian nations if their colony was to survive.

FIC ♀ Gulliver's Travels Swift, Jonathan LP-2016

MYS ☯ Murder on Ice

Adams, Alina   LP-2750

(A Figure Skating Mystery, Prime Crime) (Also available in regular print (AK-0346)) When the judge who cast the deciding vote that gave the gold to a Russian skater instead of America's sweetheart is found brutally murdered, Rebecca "Bex" Levy, figure-skating researcher for the 24/7 network, must glide carefully as she investigates this baffling mystery.

MYS ☯ On Thin Ice

Adams, Alina   LP-2894

(Also available in regular print (AP-0265)). Thirteen-year-old Jeremy Hunt could be the future of figure skating. He's got a winning smile, flawless technique, and more talent than most skaters twice his age. So when his strangely protective father refuses to let him go to the Nationals, Rebecca "Bex" Levy, up-and-coming figure-skating researcher for the 24/7 network, knows there's a better story off the ice than on. And just as she's uncovering a sordid scandal, a past champion is murdered.

MYS ☯ Like Angels Falling

Adams, Jane   LP-2332

With his resignation from the police force approved, Ray Flowers' plans to set up a security and detection business with his old friend George Mahoney are in full swing. One of their first cases is to help an acquaintance whose daughter has joined the cult known as The Eyes of God. The cult is disturbingly familiar to Ray. For eleven years, he led the inquiry into the ritualized murder of three boys. The man convicted of the killings was cult leader Harrison Lee. But now he has died in prison, and his evil can be laid to rest. Or can it?

MYS ☯ Cat in Wolf's Clothing

MYS ☯ Henrietta Who?

Aird, Catherine   LP-2199

Life, for Henrietta Jenkins, had always been a quiet affair, a home with her widowed mother in Larking village, and her degree studies at the university. Then, just before her 21st birthday, her mother was run down on a village road, apparently the victim of a hit-and-run driver. But what seemed at first a simple case turned dramatically into a murder investigation. More than murder, for the post mortem revealed that Grace Jenkins had never had any children!

MYS ☯ Parting Breath

Aird, Catherine   LP-2284

The University of Calleshire was experiencing another student sit-in. As often happens, the cause was obscured by the effect, though the unlikely alliance of the Dean and the college porter ensured that matters didn't get too out of hand. There was no need to call in the police, everyone was agreed on that point, until one of the students was found dying in a college quad to a background of Elizabethan madrigals. Inspector Sloan found his investigations hampered by the eccentricities of both the academic and the student bodies, not to mention the victim, whose cryptic last utterance defies explanation.

MYS ☯ Stiff News

Aird, Catherine LP-2594

No one was too surprised when octogenarian Gertrude Powell was found dead at Almstone Manor, a retirement home for former members of the Fearnshire Regiment and their dependents. She had, after all, been very ill. But on the morning of her funeral, her son Lionel receives a very disturbing letter, from his mother. In it, she claims that someone is trying to kill her. Now Gertrude had led a full and exciting life, but for every fact Inspector Sloan turns up about her, there seems to be a mystery too. And the other residents of Almstone Manor aren't talking.

MYS ☯ The Assets

Allbeury, Ted LP-2283

Codename: Operation MK Ultra. The most secret operation in the CIA involving mind control under the influence of drugs and hypnosis, it uses unwitting individuals for intelligence gathering and counter-espionage. It operates outside the law. The illicit experiments carried out under MK Ultra can have terrifying, and sometimes tragic, human consequences. It is the unenviable task of Senator Joe Maguire to monitor the goings on of MK Ultra and to pick up the pieces when things go wrong.

MYS ☯ Baseball Cat

Allen, Garrison LP-3038

(A "Big Mike" Mystery) When a semi-professional baseball team visits Empty Creek, Arizona, the game hasn't even begun before somebody uses the owner's head for a baseball, and scores a deadly hit. A corpse before morning coffee is not Penelope Warren's usual style. But the ex-Marine proprietress of the mystery bookstore knows that the free-spirited denizens of Empty Creek are depending on her and Mycroft, her twenty-five-pound Abyssinian cat, to investigate.

MYS ☯ Royal Cat

Allen, Garrison LP-3110

Empty Creek, Arizona has been transformed into Merry Olde England by the annual Elizabethan Spring Faire. The fun ends when Carolyn Lewis, the less-than-popular retired teacher playing The Virgin Queen, is executed in the dark of night. Then the murderer takes an encore, and it's up to Penelope Warren and her Abyssinian cat to do the sleuthing behind the scenes.

(Also available in regular print (AK-0236)). Eighteen years after the body of an unidentified young woman is discovered in a quarry off California's Highway 1, two police detectives nearing retirement enlist Kinsey Millhone's aid to help identify the long-ago murder victim.

MYS ☯ S is for Silence

Grafton, Sue LP-3225

(Also available in regular print (AS-0744)). In Kinsey Millhone's 19th excursion into the world of suspense and misadventure, a daughter wants the solace of closure in the mystery surrounding her mother's absence. Thirty-four years earlier, Violet Sullivan put on her party finery and left for the Fourth of July fireworks display. She was never seen again.

MYS ☯ Murder by Serpents

Graham, Barbara LP-3404

Murder arrives in the Smoky Mountains along with the earliest flowers of spring when a snake-handling preacher is murdered with his own snakes. Tennessee sheriff Tony Abernathy is happiest when his job only requires minimal work, and searching for a killer doesn't make him happy. Soon, he and his wife Theo are conducting separate investigations. Tony is interviewing suspects, and Theo is gathering information at her quilt shop, "gossip central."

MYS ☯ Unholy Ghosts

Greenwood, D. M. LP-2315

Aggressive, unreliable and frequently intoxicated, Father Hereward Marr's only discernible virtue as a parish priest is his talent for deathbed conversions. So when his body is found in a pit he dug in an attempt to repair the central heating, few are truly sorry. But, as it becomes clear that his death was not accidental, Deaconess Theodora Braithwaite, enjoying a break from her duties in her inner-city parish, is asked by the Bishop to lend a hand. And Theodora knows the dead man's wife, from her London group for battered clergy wives.

MYS ☯ Dust

Grimes, Martha LP-3379

MYS ☯ The Old Wine Shades

Grimes, Martha LP-3313

(Also available in regular print (AS-1062)). Richard Jury considers the authenticity of a fantastical tale, told by a stranger and fellow patron at the Old Wine Shades pub in London, about a string theory scientist's wife, son, and dog, who disappeared without a trace nine months earlier.

MYS ☯ The Stargazey

Grimes, Martha LP-2083

On a bleak November day, Richard Jury rides old double-decker bus #14 travelling to Fulham Road when a woman boards the bus in front of the Stargazey pub, leaves, reboards, and leaves again. Curious, he follows her to the gates of Fulham Palace. Had he gone beyond the gates, he might have averted a murder and later another at a crusty old men's club.

MYS ☯ A Real Basket Case

Groundwater, Beth LP-3361

Even with her Colorado Springs-based gift-basket business, Claire Hanover feels unfulfilled and lonely. Her children are grown and her workaholic husband ignores her. Her friends' marriages are no better, and Claire's divorced and bitter friend urges Claire to have a fling with their handsome aerobics instructor. While giving her a massage, he's shot and killed, and Claire's husband, Roger, is found holding the smoking gun.

MYS ☯ Detective

Hailey, Arthur LP-2190

Serial killer Elroy "Animal" Doil is hours away from the electric chair. In his last hours of life, he wants to make a confession, to Detective Malcolm Ainslie, the man who put him away. And as much as he'd like to, Ainslie can't ignore the criminal's request, because although Doil is guilty of a gruesome double murder, his confession could close ten other unsolved slayings. What Ainslie learns, however, will thrust him into an investigation that leads directly to elite levels of city government, and some of his trusted colleagues.

MYS ☯ The Chinese Alchemist

Hamilton, Lyn LP-3341

MYS ☯ Columbo: The Hoover Files

Harrington, William   LP-2241

Tell-all biographer Betsy Clendenin was many celebrities' worst fear. But when she began writing a book that would expose secrets buried in the notorious Hoover files, someone decided she'd gone too far. A mail bomb soon sends her, and the evidence she's unearthed, up in flames. The killer thinks he's pulled off the perfect crime, but what he doesn't realize is that "perfect crimes" are Columbo's specialty.

MYS ☯ Ghost at Work

Hart, Carolyn   LP-3417

When the pastor's wife discovers a murdered body on her porch, ghost sleuth Bailey Ruth Raeburn applies her beyond-the-grave talents for solving puzzles to keep suspicion from falling on the innocent pastor.

MYS ☯ Death on a Silver Platter

Hart, Ellen   LP-3054

(Also available in regular print (AJ-0267)). (A Culinary Mystery)
Restaurant reviewer and amateur sleuth Sophie Greenway, a dear friend of Carl's daughter Elaine, becomes embroiled in the dark secrets of Prairie Lodge, the grand mansion built by Carl Veelund for his family, when she accidentally stumbles upon an old diary that draws her into an investigation into a series of bizarre murders.

MYS ☯ Dial M for Meat Loaf

Hart, Ellen   LP-2983

As Minnesota housewives race to meet the deadline for the "Times Register's" meat loaf contest, unsavory Kirby Runbeck is killed by a car bomb. When the town's former mayor, near death from a stroke, confesses to the murder, his wife and two children deny it. Food maven and family friend Sophie Greenway wonders about his innocence, and finds this murder seasoned with secrets and scandal.

MYS ☯ Slice and Dice

Hart, Ellen   LP-3062

If all goes according to plan, Connie Buckridge's culinary empire will soon boast a state-of-the-art cooking academy and restaurant in her hometown of Minneapolis-St.Paul. But, primed by an anonymous e-mail informer, investigative writer Maria Damontraville is preparing to cook Connie's goose with a major expose of her strategies for success. Then food critic Sophie Greenway stumbles on the missing ingredient in this unsavory stew, murder.

MYS ☯ Arson and Old Lace

Harwin, Patricia   LP-2960

"You're a librarian, not a detective," Catherine Penny's daughter reminds her. Catherine, suddenly single in her sixties, is leaving behind New York City and a failed marriage for a lovely 17th-century cottage in the idyllic English village of Far Wychwood. But behind the town's quaint stone walls and lace-curtained windows lurk dark secrets and whispers of witchcraft. And when her crusty neighbor dies in a tragic fire, Catherine alone suspects arson.

MYS ☯ Slaying is Such Sweet Sorrow

Harwin, Patricia LP-2961

Librarian and former New Yorker Catherine Penny has settled in the tiny English town of Far Wychwood. But nowhere is too far for painful memories when her ex-husband, who left her single in her sixties, arrives with his new lady love. Catherine can't avoid him at an awards ceremony for their son-in-law, Peter, who is a shoo-in for a prestigious appointment at Mercy College. Then Peter's rival for the appointment is found murdered.

MYS ☯ Basket Case

Hiaasen, Carl LP-2494

(Also available in regular print (AG-0054)). Former investigative reporter Jack Tagger gets his chance to escape the doldrums of obituary writing as he investigates the suspicious "accidental" death of rock star Jimmy Stoma, the infamous leader of Jimmy and the Slut Puppies, if he can escape his ambitious young editor, the star's widow, a brutish bodyguard, and the profit-hungry owner of his newspaper.

MYS ☯ Hunting Badger

Hillerman, Tony LP-2107

Navajo crimebusters Leaphorn and Chee return in a novel set on the vast Navajo Reservation sprawling across Arizona, New Mexico, and Utah, and played out against the unhappy memories of an actual 1998 manhunt that produced canyon country legends of FBI bungling, but no arrest.

MYS ☯ Skeleton Man

Hillerman, Tony LP-2830

(Also available in regular print (AR-2093)). While assisting Sergeant Jim Chee and his fiancée, Bernie, investigate what appears to be a simple trading post robbery, former Navajo Tribal Police lieutenant Joe Leaphorn turns up a clue that leads to a search for the remains of a passenger, carrying a fortune in diamonds, on a plane that went down in the Grand Canyon fifty years earlier.

MYS ☯ The First Eagle

Hillerman, Tony LP-2229

(Also available in regular print (BB-2817)). Just when Lt. Jim Chee thinks he has an open and shut murder case, retired Navajo Tribal police officer Joe Leaphorn blows it wide open exposing a complicated web of superstition and science where outside forces converge and collide.

MYS ☯ The Sinister Pig

Hillerman, Tony LP-2805

Hodge, Jane A. LP-2196

When Patience Smith discovers on her 21st birthday that she is penniless, she decides to return to her cousins' home as companion to her grandmother, the formidable Mrs. Feathers, whose main entertainment seems to involve cruelly manipulating her family. Surprisingly, the old lady takes an immediate liking to Patience and changes her will to leave her a considerable fortune. So hours later when she is found poisoned, it seems that only one person had a motive to want the old lady dead.

MYS ☯ Death Among Friends

Holt, Hazel LP-2148

A Sheila Malory Mystery. Freda Spencer, Chairman of the Brunswick Lodge Management Committee, undoubtedly possesses good leadership qualities but she is also particularly unpleasant, and few residents of Taviscombe, including Sheila Malory, look forward to seeing her. So why is Richard Lewis, the once dashing wartime hero, still devoted to her? And why is Laurence Marvel, thirty years her junior, so happy to be her constant companion? And was it simply bad luck when Freda was attacked during a robbery and only weeks later rushed to the hospital again?

MYS ☯ Dead Frenzy

Houston, Victoria LP-2692

(A Loon Lake Fishing Mystery) Between a fishing tournament and a biker convention, Loon Lake is flooded with visitors. And for the most part, they're less-than-savory characters. The million-dollar fishing prize is bringing out the worst in some people and the motorcycle rally is actually a front for a drug operation. To get to the bottom of all this, Doc Osborne agrees to go undercover, as a biker! It only takes a few revs of the engine and a quick taste of chrome to get him hooked.

MYS ☯ Dead Jitterbug

Houston, Victoria LP-3063

(Also available in regular print (AR-0661)) When advice columnist and local Loon Lake resident Hope McDonald is murdered, police chief Lewellyn Ferris, with the help of diehard fisherman Doc Osborne, sets a trap to reel in a clever killer.

MYS ☯ Pasta Imperfect

Hunter, Maddy   LP-3031

The discount travel package to Italy seemed like a great deal: Emily Andrew could lead her globe-trotting Iowans on the trip of a lifetime and bring her family to boot. Maybe she should have read the fine print; sharing their itinerary with a group of hyper-competitive aspiring romance writers is just a prelude to more Machiavellian drama than an Italian opera.

MYS ☯ Top O'the Mournin'

Hunter, Maddy   LP-2962

Emily Andrew is earning some much-needed green by navigating the twisting roads of Ireland with a group of seniors, including her beloved Nana. But once the hearty troupe from Iowa lands on Irish sod, trouble starts brewing: there's a death-defying incident with a horse-drawn carriage, and a gender-bending encounter with Emily's ex-husband. And the plot thickens like Irish stew when the group settles into Ballybantry Castle, where a ghost is said to wander the halls.

MYS ☯ State of the Onion

Hyzy, Julie A.   LP-3378

WES ☯ Sundance: Overkill

Benteen, John   LP-2036

Sundance's reputation as a fighting man had spread from Canada to Mexico, from the Mississippi to the Pacific. There was no job too tough for the half-breed to handle, so when a wealthy banker's daughter was kidnapped by the Cheyenne, he offered Sundance $10,000 to rescue the girl. Sundance became a moving target for both the U.S. Cavalry and his own blood brothers.

WES ☯ Ranchero

Blackburn, Thomas   LP-2168

New Mexico was a savage wilderness when Spencer Stanton rode into it. With iron nerve and ready guns, he had forged his cattle empire out of it, but now, all that had built up was being threatened by a gang of savage, ruthless marauders. In the Stanton Empire, Spencer had his own laws and his own brand of justice, and God help the men he found guilty.

WES ☯ El Segundo

Blackburn, Tom W.   LP-2599

A range war to win, a blood score to settle, and the Stanton Empire at stake. Ripe for the picking, that's what the Stanton Empire looked like to the vicious gang of land-grabbers. Their first raid carried off a girl they thought was Stanton's woman. The next time they would take all, unless Jaime Henry, Stanton's right-hand man, tracked them to their lair and killed them one by one.

WES ☯ Short Grass

Blackburn, Tom W.   LP-2341

The riders of the short grass were men baked in blood and bred in violence. Steve Lewellyn was no different, until he met the woman he wanted. But she had no use for a man who was sure to end up with a bullet in his back. So Lewellyn rode North, alone, to change his ways. But the ruthless hunger for cattle, land and power went beyond the Texas border. Trouble, and the girl, followed Lewellyn.

WES ☯ Sierra Baron

Blackburn, Tom W.   LP-2654

Half a million acres of gold was a lot for a man to handle, even a hard-fighting man like Mike McGann. But when he learned that he owned it, he aimed to keep it, and his aim was pretty damn good. Only suddenly he found himself the target for every gold-hungry gun in the territory, and before he could stop it the rush was on, for Mike McGann's land, and his blood.

WES ☯ Last Stage West

Bonham, Frank   LP-2208

The Staked Plain was rough country, as dry and deadly as hate itself. So Harry Logan and Pete Canty made a deal. First, they would team up to track down the man who had derailed the Burnsville train and deliver him some frontier justice. Then, they would reload and shoot out the rage that lay as thick as Texas dust between them.

WES ☯ Logan's Choice

Bonham, Frank   LP-2342

The Yacqui had few friends, and many dead enemies. Frank Logan had been a friend, but he was dead. And now his son had to prove that he was trustworthy. In two weeks, young Tom Logan had to come up with $10,000 in stolen Yacqui gold, or die the slow, cruel death the Yacqui reserved for those who betrayed them. That would have suited some land hungry ranchers just fine, but Tom Logan's Colts had a way of finding what they were looking for.

WES ☯ Border Vengeance

Bouma, J. L.   LP-2006

Buck Benlaw was out for blood. He'd been framed for a robbery he didn't commit, and there was a price on his head. There were only two people who knew he was innocent-Buck himself, and Frank Garrett, who'd left him holding the bag after the hold-up. Now

Buck was going to get his revenge, even if he had to take the law into his own hands!

WES ☯ Outlaw Gold

Bradford, Scott   LP-3106

WES ☯ Outlaw Justice

Cheshire, Giff   LP-2402

Ute Taplan's free ways got him branded an outlaw. Taking to the badlands, he learned that his brother Loren and his chief gun, Joe Lake, were behind the real owlhooters thereabouts. Promptly Ute rode like a wild Indian to spill the bad blood between himself and his brother, and to wreak outlaw justice on the deadly Joe Lake.

WES ☯ Thunder on the Mountain

Cheshire, Giff   LP-2312

From Lahmotta Canyon to Clearwater to the Big Hole in Camas Meadows and onward, the battle raged. The blood of red men and white mingled on that dark and tragic ground. This is the powerful saga of Chief Joseph, last and best of the Indian leaders, who tried to use reason with his own angry braves and the white commissioners who had doomed his people to a living death, until all that was left to do was fight that last gallant, heart-breaking battle.

WES ☯ Sudden Guns

Cheshire, Gifford   LP-2191

His name was Pick Atherton, and trouble was his trade. He didn't look for it, but he found it wherever he went. He knew how to handle it, but a man gets weary of killing, so Atherton bought himself a nice little spread, built up his herd, and hung up his guns. Then a man named Wells Packford told Atherton to move on. Packford was a tough man, a strong man, with an army of hired guns, and he laughed when Atherton said he figured on staying put. Packford had a lot of learning to do, and Atherton was the man to do the teaching.

WES ☯ Mc Allister and the Spanish Gold

Chisholm, Matt   LP-2047

On the run from the law, Mc Allister was hired to guard a bunch of gold-crazy treasure-seekers. He had to contend with marauding Apaches, a murderous sheriff, a treacherous partner, and a beautiful girl, and when it looked as if he didn't have a prayer, Mc Allister began to wish he had never heard of the Spanish Gold.

WES ☯ The Trail of Fear

Chisholm, Matt   LP-2041

Jack Owen was no hero. He had a soft spot for kids and he hated guns. He was alone and he was a coward, he knew that, but something he couldn't define had filled him with iron. Cool exhilaration rose when he realized that at last he wasn't afraid. He got to his feet, gun in hand. He was out-numbered and out-gunned, but he would never back down.

WES ☯ The Second Gun

Cobb, James C.   LP-2600

The Wilson clan rules the roost in Granger, Arizona. With the county judge in their pocket, and most of the townsfolk employed by their ranching or mining operations, no one is willing to stand up to them, until Jake Murchison, a former New York policeman, accepts the post of town marshal. But the Wilsons aren't going to relinquish control quietly, and they'll do whatever it takes, legal or illegal, to run the marshal out of town on a rail.

WES ☯ Branded

Coburn, Walt   LP-2294

Pete Craven's outlaw father had abandoned him to the crazed rancher, Zee Dunbar, and Pete couldn't trust Zee's pretty wife, Tracy, either. She was too free with her attentions to too many men. He couldn't trust Montana law which wanted to see him hang. He could only put his trust in the lightning-fast draw of his six-shooter. But he was to learn that wasn't enough, that a man could save his skin yet lose his soul to a destiny far worse than death, if he didn't trust someone!

WES ☯ Fast Gun

Coburn, Walt   LP-2539

Bryce Bradford had killed a friend of the powerful men of Buffalo Run, yet they made him sheriff. Why? The attractive mystery woman who was half owner of the saloon has a beckoning eye for him. What was her game? And the gunslingers who trailed him, what were they after? The answers were hidden in his past.

WES ☯ Guns Blaze on Spiderweb Range

Coburn, Walt   LP-2475

Sundown, Montana, was a sick town with a deadly fever that was killing thousands of cattle. Fresh out of veterinarian school, Jim Benton imposed a quarantine on all cattle coming into Montana. But the cattle-running gunmen of Spiderweb Range had too much at stake to obey that law.

WES ☯ The Square Shooter

Coburn, Walt   LP-2309

Bullets sprayed the pitch-black night, and Boone dove headlong into the roaring river. As he surfaced, a man rushed out of the dark and jumped in after him. It was the killer. Boone fought his way to the far bank. When he finally reached it, his insides turned to ice. Nothing but a steep, sheer wall of wet clay loomed in front of him, and the killer was closing in from behind.

WES ☞ Violent Maverick

Coburn, Walt   LP-2416

Pablo Guerrero, outlaw and deadly gunman, was the most feared bandito on the Arizona border. So, when penniless cowman Pat Roper found himself gifted with Pablo's huge Two Block range after saving the gunman's life, he couldn't figure out if he was the luckiest, or unluckiest, cuss alive. For the adjoining ranch belonged to Pablo's lifetime enemy, Wig Murphy. And any friend of Pablo's was a dead-on target for Murphy's guns.

WES ☞ Fort De Chastaigne

Coldsmith, Don   LP-0187

Hoping to earn the trust and friendship of the native people, Captain Lefever sets out from the new Fort de Chastaigne on the Missouri River to establish trade relations with the Spanish at Santa Fe.

WES ☞ Border Hell

Cole, Jackson   LP-3136

As Hawley swaggered to the bar, the room was suddenly tense. The gunman jostled Hatfield rudely, spoiling for a fight. The Ranger ignored him as if he were dirt. Hawley flushed as the insult went home, roaring "Why, you lowdown range tramp, " Hatfield hit him in the mouth, hard, then stood perfectly still, his hands hanging loosely by his sides, saying "You're called, Hawley. Either fill your hand or crawl."

WES ☞ Guns of Vengeance

Cole, Jackson   LP-3124

Pecos Carns - king of the rustlers, was as mean as they came. He took what he wanted in cold blood and shot before he said "please." Now he was leading a band of gun-happy outlaws against a group of helpless ranchers. Ranger Jim Hatfield rode in to put an end to bloodshed and found himself face to face with a gang of the hungriest killers he'd ever met, all out to see him dead.

WES ☞ Gunsmoke Trail

Cole, Jackson   LP-3105

Texas Ranger Jim Hatfield knew he was up against a trio of killers whose cruelty was unmatched in the State of Texas, and who left no man alive who stood in their way. He jerked his guns and fired as fast as he could pull trigger. Answering shots boomed, and, above the roar, Hatfield heard the sound of hoofbeats.

WES ☞ Hell in Paradise

Cole, Jackson   LP-2313

Luther Sherrall and his evil crew moved in on the richest range in Texas, and soon it was drenched in blood. Their scheme to get control of the largest, lushest spread west of the Pecos was working beautifully. Meanwhile, decent men were losing everything they'd worked so hard to gain, and many were dying. It was hell in the place called Paradise, and only one man could save the day. His name was Ranger Jim Hatfield.

WES ☞ Outside the Law

Conley, Robert J.   LP-2731

Christopher Lang left his Yankee homeland to teach the classics in the Cherokee Nation. His class was a success, he'd become fast friends with deputy sheriff and fellow scholar George Tanner, and he was courting beautiful Hannah Girty, a young Cherokee woman. Why would anyone want Lang dead? Sheriff Go-Ahead Rider and Deputy Tanner will have to dig deep to uncover the dark secrets that made Christopher Lang an enemy.

WES ☞ Quitting Time

Conley, Robert J.   LP-2982

For years Oliver Colfax worked as a hired killer. But after a friendship developed with one of his targets, Colfax quit. A few odd jobs keep body and soul together and he's content with sitting in his St. Louis hotel room and drinking fine whiskey. When a rancher from Colorado asks him to deal with some cattle rustlers, Colfax declines, until he learns that a production of Titus Andronicus is playing nearby.

WES ☞ To Make a Killing

Conley, Robert J.   LP-2684

How could it have happened? A prisoner, locked alone in a guarded cell, had been shot and killed at close range. Sheriff Go-Ahead Rider already had his hands full in Tahlequah as the Cherokee capital braced for a vote on the issue of a land grant. But Rider never expected a murder in his own jail. And with his full-blood deputy, Beehunter, under suspicion, Rider took the crime personally.

WES ☞ Frontier Feud

Cook, Will   LP-3240

Every trooper at Fort Smith was perched atop a powder keg, for this tiny frontier garrison had the task of keeping the peace among some 25,000 war-hungry Sioux and Cheyenne. Then, 300 of the Army's new repeating rifles were stolen. In a desperate move to forestall disaster the Army called on its ace troubleshooter, Linus Quincannon.

WES ☞ Iron Man, Iron Horse

Cook, Will   LP-2273

Although two men before him had failed, troubleshooter Ben Holliday was determined to make the Midland-Pacific line a paying proposition. With constant threats from warring Apaches and treacherous cattle barons dogging him, the chips were stacked against his every move. But more than Holliday's railroad was at stake, the safety and future of the entire West depended on the fate of that single train.

WES ☞ The Fighting Texan

Cook, Will   LP-2743

There was magic in Jim Quartermain's hands. The magic to kill a man. But the Texan wore the star, and his guns were on the side of the law. Then came the trouble on the San Saba, a bitter personal feud. Reluctantly, Quartermain laid his badge aside. From that moment, like it or not, he was a gunfighter.

WES ☞ Bitter Creek

Coolidge, Dane   LP-3147

(Also available in regular print (AR-1935)). Conned out of $20,000, Cal Watson, a prospector and mine owner, devises a clever, yet dangerous, scheme to win back his money and publicly humiliate the man who tricked him, which he soon discovers is no easy task.

WES ☞ Cain Basin

Cord, Barry   LP-2360

When Steve Crystal married his wife, Mary, she was young, pretty, and full of life, and she soon felt cheated that Steve neglected her to earn a hard living as a cattleman. Finally, she went off with another man, taking their child with her. Bitter and vengeful, Steve sold his ranch and set out to kill the man who had stolen his family. Then he reached Resurrection Trail, leading to Cain Basin. There, Steve temporarily forgot his personal mission as he became embroiled in a violent range war, and somehow, in the midst of the gunfire, the heartsick cowboy made peace with himself.

WES ☞ Gallows Ghost

Cord, Barry   LP-2601

The Nebraska Kid slid a jumpy glance over the trail ahead. He saw nothing except the tracks of four men who had preceded him; he knew these men were the Morgan riders. He settled back, his knees tightening against the roan's flanks, his muscles tensed for any sudden moves by the big stud. But a cold foreboding made him twist and look back down that empty pass. He wiped his mouth with the back of his sleeve and turned around. It took him a long moment to register what he saw. It can't be, he thought, his mind locked and his body rigid.

WES ☯ Gun Junction

Cord, Barry   LP-2446

Three men rode into Fulton, three loners with one thing in common, a way of life built around a gun. One was a U.S. deputy marshal, one a discredited ex-Ranger, one a hired killer. They had all come to do the same job: avenge the death of one man and restore law to the territory. Or so they all said.

WES ☯ Shadow Valley

Cord, Barry   LP-2756

When Cole Barrett came home to the Cross B ranch after the Civil War, he found everything in a state of turmoil. His brother had been shot, his father beaten, his sister embittered by the death of her fiancé in the War. Cash Gillis had taken over the neighboring Saber spread. He controlled Horsethief Pass, the only cattle trail out of Shadow Valley. The price he demanded for letting Cross B cattle go through would ruin the Barret clan. But Cole wasn't about to knuckle under to a bunch of thieves.

WES ☯ Six Bullets Left

Cord, Barry   LP-2290

"Deserta!" That was the name given by the "Baron" to his new state, carved out of the heart of Texas. An outlaw kingdom, it had been conceived in evil and dedicated to depravity. It held the secret of untold riches, and unspeakable crimes. Only a small army of expert frontier fighters, or a Texas Ranger called Solitary, could hope to destroy it.

WES ☯ The Deadly Amigos

Cord, Barry   LP-2387

The Amigos, a group of Mexican revolutionaries, was being used as a front for Cass Borman's slick rustling operation. Borman's gang was made up of the worst killers on either side of the border. But into this group came someone new. He was young, lean, hard. Pete Galahad, he called himself. They tried to bully him, at first, then they became a little afraid of him. There was something of the smell of death about him, and then one day, there was a showdown. In the split second it took Pete Galahad to draw his gun, he gazed into the eyes of his brother's killer.

WES ☯ The Gun-Shy Kid

Cord, Barry   LP-2424

Looking for his missing brother, Kip Nunninger rode into dangerous Antelope Valley, and nothing was going to stop him. But he was a boy on a man's errand, and the valley watched him, knowing that he'd be gunned down before he grew to be a man. Kip was sure that Antelope Valley held the truth of his brother's disappearance. He didn't know that it also held a bullet and a gravesite, both with his name already on them!

WES ☞ The Gunsmoke Trail

Cord, Barry   LP-2772

Smoky Jennison was the hard-riding boss of the Big Y. He was also one of the richest men in Arizona. It was his father's ambition that Bob Jennison would someday take over from him but, humiliated in front of the woman he loved and hated by his father for his rebelliousness, Bob had no choice but to leave town. Then the Slade brothers raided the Big Y, and they had a reputation that few men challenged.

WES ☞ The Masked Gun

Cord, Barry   LP-2638

Sheriff Mido Peters tensed himself readying for a lawless New Year's Eve in Labelle. Rich Jake Grady had promised drinks on the house to any man that night, and this, the sheriff knew, would mean nothing but drunkenness and riot. But the sheriff got even more than he bargained for. He had not expected gunplay, and when bullets were exchanged between two strangers in town causing death to mark the holiday, it was plain that trouble was brewing, bad trouble. For the dead man was a phony U.S. Marshal and his killer a wanted outlaw.

WES ☞ The Running Iron Samaritans

Cord, Barry   LP-2464

Wandering cowmen Long Jim and Windy take on work at the V-Bar Ranch and become entangled in the mystery of "Miguel." Before long, to save their lives and those of the people at the ranch, they must draw on every skill they have to track down a killer.

WES ☞ The Third Rider

Cord, Barry   LP-3139

Five years of hard times had left their mark on Mel Rawlins. He had left the Stirrup ranch a boy and came back a man, bitter, tough, gun-easy and law-shy. But the Stirrup had changed more than he had. The desert wind seemed to have sucked all life from the prosperous ranch of his childhood. His father was murdered, his two brothers gone, and the lawman who had married Mel's sister carried a warrant for his arrest.

WES ☞ Bushwhackers at the Circle K

Cunningham, Chet   LP-2984

Riding toward the Circle K, Dave Kemp had time to think about the telegram he had received, only days ago, from his sister, Janie. It had been hard for Dave to leave St. Louis and the study of law, but Janie would need him now. Their father was dead. But when Dave arrives at the ranch, he finds Janie and the ranch hand murdered. In town, Kemp learns from the sheriff that his father had not died a natural death, and vows revenge.

WES ☞ Survival Trail

Cunningham, Chet   LP-3146

Cavalry Sergeant Will Larson, part of a routine patrol on a four day ride, is ordered by the green patrol leader to ride down to the Rio Verde river. The river is a Chiricahua Indian stronghold, and Larson and his men are attacked and pinned down. When the patrol leader loses his head, the sergeant must take over, and heads out to hike seventy miles across the waterless desert to bring a relief column to save his comrades.

WES ☞ The Ranger Way

Cunningham, Eugene   LP-2153

It looked like Deaver Jones was going to end his young life on the end of a Texas Rope. Arrested for robbing the local bank and slitting the throat of its cashier, his guilt seemed certain when three men sprung him from jail and a train was robbed the next day. The sheriff, who hates Jones for personal reasons, takes an armed, lynch-minded posse into the hills to track him down. There's only one man in Texas who will stand by the fugitive, Texas Ranger Shelley Raines. But in the furious gunslinging showdown that follows, that one Ranger turns out to be as good as an army!

WES ☞ Guns of the Sioux

Curry, Tom   LP-3104

The Black Hills of southern Dakota were mysterious and lofty peaks where untold wealth in gold was said to lie. They were also the sacred ground of the great Dakota Sioux nation, where no white man dared to tread. Then, some intrepid pioneers penetrated the hills, finding gold beyond their imagination.

WES ☞ Raiders of the Valley

Curry, Tom   LP-2890

Kill and conquer, that was how Manfred Von Wohl operated. Schooled in the ruthless Prussian ways of war, the cattle baron was applying his murderous methods to the virgin lands of the American West. But then Bob Pryor, the Rio Kid, came on the scene, and vowed to stop him, or die trying.

WES ☞ Range of Doom

Curry, Tom   LP-2874

When young itinerant bronc buster Dan Audley arrives in Belvedere, a settlement in the Southwest, no one expects gunplay to follow. Dan, who had roamed from ranch to ranch since his father's death in a blasting accident, was just looking for a decent job without great responsibility. But in this violent frontier town, he meets people who teach him to be a man of strength and experience.

WES ☞ The Outcast: Red Mesa

Cypher, Luke   LP-3431

Gunfighter-turned-preacher Amos Hood, leaving the way of the gun to spread the Word of God, arrives in the forsaken town of Jericho, where he, while trying to save some lost souls, becomes caught in the middle of a war when he helps a widow defend her ranch against ruthless cattle barons.

WES ☞ The Diehards

Dean, Dudley   LP-2090

The scent of death was in Brent Mackey's nostrils, and as sure as he was Cross Anchor's ramrod he would be riding point in the battle against Bushard. Bushard wanted Anchor, the king spread of this vast Texas plain. Mackey said no. Bushard wanted Seanna Winter, the girl Mackey had dreamed of every mile up the trail and back. Mackey said no. Big Bend stretched as far as the eye could travel, but for both Mackey and Bushard it was too small. Somewhere out there a grave was waiting.

WES ☞ Trail of the Hunter

Dean, Dudley   LP-2602

Justin Emery was a hard man. He hated his younger brother, Ford, although the reason lay in the distant past. And when Justin began to suspect that Ford was attracted to his beautiful and provocative wife, his hostility grew. Then Erd Quine entered Justin's life. Quine was a renegade, completely unscrupulous, totally sadistic. Claiming to be Samantha's true husband, he took her away by force, over Justin's half-dead body.

WES ☞ Brady's Law

Dugan, Bill   LP-2872

Dan Brady never claimed to be a hero, just a weary ex-soldier who came west for a new life. All he desires is to raise horses on hard New Mexico land with his family, and to forget a past that haunts him still. But he's the only witness to a cold murder in town, and he knows without his testimony the killers will ride free.

WES ☞ Boss of Panamint

Ernenwein, Leslie   LP-3330

Lee Beauregarde had been a drifter for years. He wandered across the west in search of one thing, revenge. He was hunting the bushwhacker who had ambushed his father, and the trail now led him into the Panamint Valley. When he arrived a bloody range war was brewing and he found himself in the middle of a showdown range fight. At stake were his life, the love of a beautiful woman, and the identity of his father's killer.

WES ☞ Bullet Breed

Ernenwein, Leslie   LP-2571

Once he was a rash, town-tamping deputy, proud of his gun. But somehow, the pain-filled years had taught him one everlasting truth; the Bullet Breed, men like himself, always died with their boots on. Regardless of how fast you are with a gun, there'll come a time when no speed on earth can save you. Jim Cavanaugh heeded the warning, he gave up the badge, he pulled out before that bullet caught up with him. He was through. Then they killed his brother and Jim Cavanaugh once more got behind his badge, a target for their guns, a lawdog waiting for a well-aimed slug!

WES ☞ Gunhawk Harvest

Ernenwein, Leslie LP-2442

Lee Ransome stuck to the right side of the law, but he was a wicked man with a six-gun, and the memory of a pretty young girl who had died under a renegade's fire filled him with a seething hatred for every outlaw.

WES ☞ High Gun

Ernenwein, Leslie LP-3098

It was called Apache Basin, this raw, rough lonely land where the bones of many violently dead men had bleached white beneath a scorching sun. Against Apache Basin Jim Modeen pitted himself, pitted his renegade streak, his cavalry courage, his hard-won savvy of wilderness danger, and pitted his gun.

WES ☞ Rampage

Ernenwein, Leslie LP-2735

The wild Colorado was Ben Roman's ancient enemy, a foe he fought and hated and deeply respected. He had to tame the river, before civilization could come to this dry desert land. To Slim Lacey, the town girl who wanted him, Ben Roman was as wild and unpredictable as the river itself. It was a strange triangle, the man, the river, and the girl. Two hung breathless on the violent, willful mood of the third.

WES ☞ Rio Renegade

Ernenwein, Leslie LP-2886

They rode in darkly off the back trails, the badges of their profession strung tightly against their thighs and gleaming with oil. They were men who slapped leather for a living and loved their work, and when they threw their irons into the Border Desert War it meant only one thing: before long, there'd be more than one riderless bronc roaming the sage.

WES ☞ Texas Guns

Ernenwein, Leslie LP-3190

"You can call me killer, gents, but don't forget the 'Mister'!" That was Jim Rimbow's challenge as he rode into the helltown he'd sworn to tame, a border-jumping, man-killing starbaster with a dying lawman on his backtrail. But Rimbow was gunning for more than glory. Rawhide tough and lawless, he meant to brace the range bawd whose kiss had killed his best friend.

WES ☞ Trigger JusticeErnenwein, Leslie   LP-2506

Jeff Tennant had been in Yuma prison on a brand-blotting charge. Now he was back at Tonto flats, fitted out with a new gun belt and holster, ready to fight for revenge and his plundered homestead. He had a quick-trigger gang of killers against him.

WES ☞ California PassageFarrell, Cliff   LP-2391

Luke Storm, last of the great fur trappers, tough and alert as a mountain lion, as fast with his fists as with his guns, is faced with the most deadly challenge of his life when he takes command of a wagon train loaded with treachery.

WES ☞ Terror in Eagle BasinFarrell, Cliff   LP-2384

Dan Cameron was one of the toughest law officers in the towns along the cattle trails of Montana and Wyoming. But he hung up his weapons for good when tragedy struck on his wedding day, and his bride died in his arms. Then he learned his best friend and fellow lawman Ed Vickers was in trouble in Eagle Basin, and took the first stagecoach to New Mexico. When he found Ed murdered, Dan was catapulted into a strange and deadly case, and needed some quick answers. Reluctantly, he forced himself to pick up the weapons he'd vowed never to wear again.

WES ☞ Trail of the Tattered StarFarrell, Cliff   LP-2280

If California went with the secessionists, the North could lose the War Between the States, and Mike McLish knew it. There was a big force of Confederates gathered at El Paso. All they needed was a leader and money to buy transport west and the money was on the way when their leader left San Francisco by Butterfield Stage. Mike traveled on that same stage, along with two beautiful girls, a professional gunslinger, and a spy who could be working both sides against the middle.

WES ☞ Outcasts of Canyon CreekFisher, Clay   LP-2272

The vigilantes rode by night, a human wolf pack. They took the trail of their quarry and ran it to its end. This time they were hunting two wanted murderers and one out-of-work mining camp whore. No one could stop them, or would dare to try, until they put their sinister rope on the wrong man.

WES ☞ Rigged to RideFlanagan, Mike   LP-2603

Under the guidance of veteran cowboy Jack Lomas, young rodeo rider Clay Tory has slowly but steadily risen in the ranks. But the two are thrown like a greenhorn from a bronco when suspicious mishaps begin to befall Clay's fellow riders. When they start digging for answers, Clay is attacked, almost ending his rodeo career. It turns out that some very powerful people are trying to fix the contest in their favor, and they want Clay and Jack out of commission.

WES ☞ Wyoming Gun Law

Floren, Lee   LP-0191

Matt Williams hates the invasion of homesteaders because they fence off the land he needs for his cattle. He swears he'll drive out the new settlers, but soon the invasion of farmers is matched by the invasion of hired guns, and hell is just a gunshot away.

WES ☞ Lobo Gray

Foreman, L. L.   LP-3253

The Lower-Pecos cattle country was run by a crooked, power-hungry judge. He enforced his own brand of law with a horde of trigger-happy killers, headed by a top gunman called Lobo Gray. Nobody who drew on Gray lived to regret it; they died too fast. Even Judge Blake grew to fear his silent, efficient henchman. That's why he sent Gray into the Pecos high country and ordered the treacherous Yucatano to follow.

WES ☞ Longrider

Foreman, L. L.   LP-3142

Lew Reagan, the Longrider, did a lot of things he wouldn't have talked about in polite company, if he'd ever been in polite company. But he didn't steal from friends. Now he was on the prod for a former partner, a man as tough and wily and fast as Reagan, a man who'd cheated Reagan out of his share of $40,000 in gold and a good-size ranch. And along the way he'd picked up a girl who had a claim on the ranch herself.

WES ☞ Rawhiders of the Brasada

Foreman, L. L.   LP-3237

When "Mad" Madigan rode to his native Texas, last of a hell-raisin' family that folks in the Brasada had thought they had successfully destroyed, he didn't come alone. He came in siding a hand of rawhiders. Now rawhiders were a strange lot of roving freeloaders. They camped where they wanted, rustled enough for their own needs, worked only when they had to, and kept their own secret code. But add a pistol-packer like Madison to their ranks.

WES ☞ The Jayhawkers

Foreman, L. L.   LP-2891

The dead man was strung to the oak branch by his wrists. A slip of paper tucked in his belt marked him as a victim of the Jayhawkers. Once again, the Jayhawkers had mocked justice with murder. Only this time, they'd chosen the wrong man to kill. Their victim had a friend: a hot-tempered Texan who swore to avenge him.

WES ☞ The Mustang Trail

Foreman, L. L.   LP-2629

Rogue Bishop is a sardonic gambler and troubleshooter. Don Ricardo is a vain and wily bandit. Together, they're both humorous and deadly. In their current adventure, Rogue meets up with a crooked procurement officer and makes a deal to provide remounts to the U.S. Army in the Southwest.

WES ☞ Blackleg Range

Foster, Bennett   LP-2502

Drying skeletons, where once the herds had prospered; Texas killers where once the range knew peace. This was Price Thorn's homecoming. Men fought over water rights. Cowmen battled sheepmen. A kid was shot because he'd seen too much. One man, though, can make a stand against a country full of trouble.

WES ☞ He Rode Alone

Frazee, Steve   LP-2206

The boy walked out of the wilderness in the late summer of 1855, carrying the sun-blackened remains of a jackrabbit he had been eating for two days. He had been alone in there for ten days. Behind him were three graves, and with him was the memory of a family named Snelling that he would one day hunt down and destroy, slowly, terribly. That boy became a man, bleak-eyed and dangerous, who rode, always alone, carrying only the grim comfort of a black memory. Murder lay at the end of his trail, and a girl he loved.

WES ☞ The Accomplice

Galloway, Marcus   LP-3288

(Also available in regular print (AS-0994)). After killing a man, Caleb Wayfinder, who once believed that the world was his for the taking, goes on the run, encountering the notorious Doc Holliday, who, recognizing him as a fiery tempered quick draw, takes him under his wing and turns him into an outlaw.

WES ☞ The Years of Fear

Grove, Fred   LP-2655

It was the Roaring Twenties, and they descended like a swarm of locusts on the oil-rich Osage Indians of Oklahoma: jackleg lawyers, thieves, "dope" doctors, prostitutes, bootleggers, oily merchants, and fortune hunters determined "to marry me a rich Osage" preying on naïve Indian girls. Unsolved Indian homicides occurred at an alarming rate as witnesses vanished, fearing for their lives. Were all the killings unrelated, or were they the work of someone with a powerful motive?

WES ☞ Bandit Bait

Grover, Marshall   LP-2004

The Lone Star Hellions were tracking through Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado, their quarry the kid outlaw known as Blanco, a runaway from the infamous Jansen Gang. Man-hunting is no chore for a woman, but the lady from Idaho was tagging along and giving the west's toughest trouble-shooters a bad time.

WES ☯ Hell in High Country

Grover, Marshall   LP-2019

The search party moved higher into the mountains led by Big Jim Gage. The Beecham Gang was in the high country after an attack on their Harmon City Bank, a hangrope awaited their leader. Big Jim had his hands full knowing a wounded cougar was also on the prowl, crazed with pain and eager to kill.

WES ☯ Badge of the Law

Hardin, Clement   LP-2787

"You're not human. You're a machine that happens to wear a law badge and a gun!" Jim Arden blinked and stared at the glaring girl. Was it true? Was he a machine, without heart or blood or soul, that killed on command? And now, was that machine about to falter and go down before another, far more vicious machine, the killers of Gunlock?

WES ☯ The Ruthless Breed

Hardin, Clement   LP-2514

The town of Coldbrook was closed tight, with ruthless old Troy Coldbrook running it, and his headstrong son, Wes, ready to destroy all comers. And Steve Benson was his special target. He and Wes had a lot in common, they both wanted the same stretch of rangeland, and the same girl.

WES ☯ Cody's Law 01: Gunmetal Justice

Hart, Matthew S.   LP-0185

Texas Ranger Cody is the master of every weapon in the west, White man's or Indian's, and the servant of a fiercely held code of right and wrong, and he's on a land barron's trail.

WES ☯ A Killer Comes to Shiloh

Haseloff, C. H.   LP-2023

Thunder splits the Arkansas night as the Shiloh death bells toll the frightening news, a mysterious killer has brutally cut down three young lives. Quickly the drive for revenge threatens to destroy not only the town but the nearby peaceful Cherokee Nation. The only man strong enough to see the killer brought to justice without more bloodshed, is Quaker Joshua Shank.

WES ☯ Guns of Fury

Haycox, Ernest   LP-2017

Dane Starr, alias Dan Smith, wanted to close the door on his past and hang up his guns, but people wouldn't let him. Good men wanted him to settle their scores for them, and bad men thought they were faster and itched to prove it. Starr had to keep killing just to stay alive.

WES ☞ Rawhider

Heckelmann, Charles N. LP-2061

A vicious renegade was out to settle a blood feud with Bill Horn and Horn's back was his target. Sioux were after his scalp and they baited a trap Horn couldn't resist. A corrupt cavalry officer longed to ride Horn into the ground and had the power to do it. Horn had his hands full of trouble and a gun in each hand.

WES ☞ The Legend of Sotoju Mountain

Henry, Will LP-2538

This book tells the story of Ousta the Limper and her grandson, Tonkalla the Mouse. Believed to be possessed by an evil spirit, the pair is banished from their tribe. They have only one hope of returning, this grandmother of seventy winters and the young brave only in his thirteenth summer: they must find and defeat Mato Sapa, the giant black grizzly of Sotoju Mountain.

WES ☞ Able Gate

Hirt, Douglas LP-2685

Ruthless badman Barrister McClain had sworn to avenge his brother's death, and that meant nailing the hide of Able Gate. But big-name gunfighter and secret cavalry agent Gate was lying low up Montana way, undercover as the mild-mannered artist Abernathy T. Gatelatch. Even as McClain thundered into town with pistols smoking, the army sent Gate away on a special mission.

WES ☞ Colorado Gold

Hirt, Douglas LP-2732

Harrison Mandell had come to the Arizona outpost of Yuma, on the bug-infested banks of the Colorado River, to find out who was stealing money from an upriver mining company call Mina del Agua Mala. But from the moment a saloon girl came running naked into the dusty street, and a love-crazed Indian was driven off with a shotgun, Mandell knew this was not going to be any ordinary case.

WES ☞ Devil's Wind

Hirt, Douglas LP-2526

Matt Kendell believed that vengeance belonged to the Lord, even after four savage bandits swept through the tiny village of San Pablo, leaving nothing but a smoking, corpse-strewn ruin. But before escaping, the killers had flung three young women over the backs of their stolen horses, and they could still be alive. With their families gone only Matt could attempt a rescue. With a repeating rifle on his shoulder and anaching hear, he rode into perdition to proclaim man's justice in a storm of blazing lead.

WES ☞ Riverboat

Hirt, Douglas   LP-2877

In the golden age of the Mississippi, men and women from all walks of life climbed aboard the mighty riverboats and forged a nation's destiny: Gambler Dexter McKay had a heavenly way with a deck of cards. Land owner Clifton Stewart was heir to a cotton and sugar empire.

Chambermaid Mystie Waters caught the eye of every man on board, and Eli, the runaway, escaped his master's plantation only to be captured by slave hunters.

WES ☞ Riverboat: Assassination

Hirt, Douglas   LP-3191

They built their lives on the mighty Mississippi and steered the course of history. The river offered landowner Clifton Stewart a chance for a new life and many chances for death.

Genevieve St. James was a delicate, charming beauty, but underneath was a killer as ruthless as any man. Senator Stephen Douglas was running for President, and he was the nation's only hope for peace. And Zachary was free in name only, but the former slave would bow to no man.

WES ☞ Riverboat: Mississippi Pirates

Hirt, Douglas   LP-3125

In the golden age of the Mississippi, the river was a path that led to freedom, opportunity, and danger. Captain William Hamilton's Tempest

Queen was his life, and he would let no one take that from him. On board were the beautiful Miss Cora Mills, the kind of lady men fought over; Lt. Sherman Dempsey, delivering gold to Fort Leavenworth; and "Reverend" Saunders, a scheming river pirate.

WES ☞ Dead Man's Money

Hodgson, Ken   LP-3236

(Also available in regular print

(AS-0264)). Determined to collect a $20,000 reward, ruthless bounty hunter Asa Cain and his undertaker partner Cemetery John are fast on the trail of the "Monster of Osage", serial killer with a penchant for decapitation who has just claimed a wealthy businessman's daughter as his latest victim.

WES ☞ Hard Bounty

Hodgson, Ken   LP-2430

Bounty hunter Asa Cain, also called "The Undertaker's Friend, " has put more bandits and killers in the ground than anyone. To him, it's a job, until it becomes personal. The Dolven gang burns down Cain's West Texas ranch and takes his sister and mother. Suddenly, Cain begins the hunt of his life, searching for his family, for murderers, and the truth.

WES ☞ Return to Broken Crossing

Hoffman, Lee   LP-2986

Shea Glencannon squinted out into the sunlit glare of the street. Someone had called out his name. The sound of it was high-pitched, harsh and hard as gravel. The meaning of it was knife-sharp: Trouble. And that was all that Glencannon had found since coming home to Broken Crossing. When you had his kind of ornery reputation, you had to expect that your welcoming committee would be carrying drawn guns.

WES ☞ Desert Rails

Holmes, L. P.   LP-2520

Luke Fenimore had a railroad to build, a deadline to beat, and a quarter-million-dollar subsidy to win. But some shady characters were out to see him fail. Guns roared and men died. Still, Luke didn't tuck tail. "If that's the way they want it," he swore, "from here on in we play it rough!"

WES ☞ High Starlight

Holmes, L. P.   LP-2258

The fast-flowing Starlight River cut the rich grasslands of Starlight Valley in half, but now its sparkling waters were tainted with blood. The uneasy truce between the cattle ranchers on one side of this natural boundary and the shepherders on the other had been broken by a savage killing, and a full-scale range war was hair-triggered to explode. Just one man could stop it and his name was Boone Kermit. His father had created peace in this valley, and made Boone swear to preserve it, no matter how alone he was, or how many bullets came at him from both sides.

WES ☞ Night Marshal

Holmes, L. P.   LP-2385

Chris Waddell knew what a town like Midas Hill was like after the sun went down. He had walked the streets of a dozen mining hells like it, with a star on his chest and his guns just inches under his hands, waiting for the first bullet from the dark. Waddell was a lawman, one of the best, but here in Midas Hill, toughs and hired guns ran the town and killed at will. From the moment he took the gold that hired him, Waddell knew his only hope was to move fast, shoot faster, and try to stay alive before his graveyard shift became the real thing.

WES ☞ The Plunderers

Holmes, L. P.   LP-2320

Morgan Ewell was a law-abiding man. He only killed in self-defense, and he had never seen the inside of a jail. But when the law said a ruthless land-grabber and a money-hungry banker had the right to take over every spread on the range, Ewell had to take a second look at the law and at himself. The choice was plain. It was obey the law and be forced off the land he loved, or defy it, and be caught in a deadly crossfire between a straight-shooting sheriff on the one hand, and an army of hired guns on the other.

WES ☞ Bullet-Brand Empire

Hopson, William   LP-3040

Stony Burns' welcome to the giant ranch of the woman known as the Cattle Baroness of the Panhandle was a gun leveled at him. The ranch was so big that its owner made the law there, and behind her was suave, cruel Jeff Holmes, the scheming empire-builder who told her what to do. But Stony was no ordinary saddle tramp.

WES ☞ Trail West

James, Cy   LP-2042

Wayne Ulster had cleaned up many dirty towns with brains, guts and a fast gun, but three men were too much for him and he landed up full of lead. Sam Spur, the most wanted man in the west, helped track down his killers, assured by the Governor of a free pardon, but someone wanted the killers out of the way, badly. Someone who was a little too close to the Governor's side for comfort.

WES ☞ Hell Town

Johnstone, William W.   LP-3397

Frank Morgan, the last gunfighter, must go up against the governor's murderous militia when a fresh vein of silver is struck in the former boomtown of Buckskin, Nevada.

WES ☞ The Last Gunfighter: Savage Country

Johnstone, William   LP-3144

For Frank Morgan, a reunion with his estranged son brings back bittersweet memories of another time and place. Conrad Morgan is an Eastern businessman trying to build a railroad through an untamed corner of New Mexico Territory. Even though Frank has revenge-hungry killers on his trail, his kin needs him now. So with a gun-toting, hard-loving beauty named Rebel by their side, father and son ride straight into a pitched battle.

WES ☞ The Last Gunfighter: The Burning

Johnstone, William   LP-2653

When Frank Morgan sets up camp in a lush valley in Montana, the last thing he expects to see is fire lighting up the night sky as fields, farms, and homes are torched by so-called "range detectives" working for two powerful ranchers. For the ranchers, the battle lines have been drawn in the form of newly settled farmland that's cutting through the ranges, separating cattle from grazing land and water. But the settlers are breaking no law, and no one is going to prevent them from building their homes and town, until the ranchers turn to a pair of vicious mercenaries who won't stop until they run out of bullets.

WES ☞ The Last Gunfighter:
Showdown

Johnstone, William   LP-2568

Drifting down to Idaho after a wild range war in Montana, Frank Morgan's fame as a gunfighter is traveling fast and far ahead of him. With his face on the covers of newspapers and dime novels, he's got nowhere left to hide, because gunning down a legend like Frank has become more than an obsession to some. Bankrolled by rich and powerful men, a dozen highly skilled killers finally have what they want, the elusive Frank Morgan in their sights. But he's deadliest when he's cornered, and he'll be damned if he dies for any man's greed.

WES ☞ Reprisal

Johnstone, William   LP-2604

A vengeful Frank Morgan journeys to Colorado in hot pursuit of the outlaws who had killed the woman he loved, but now he is confronted with a new challenge, two vicious outlaw gangs who have embarked on a deadly spree of rape, robbery, and murder and who have kidnapped Frank's own son as a hostage.

WES ☞ The Last Gunfighter:
Imposter

Johnstone, William   LP-2503

(Also available in regular print (AE-0309)). When Frank Morgan, who is searching for a place to call home, arrives in Northern California to start a new life, he is unexpectedly immersed in a case of mistaken identity that results in him being falsely accused of a crime, forcing him to escape from jail and find the real culprit.

WES ☞ Big Brand

Kelton, Elmer   LP-0101

Twelve stories of Texas, from the Frontier days to the Great Depression.

WES ☞ Dark Thicket

Kelton, Elmer   LP-0186

Wounded Confederate soldier Owen Danforth rides back to his native Texas as the Civil War nears its end, only to find his homeland torn by secessionist "home guards" and staunch Union loyalists. Now Owen must choose sides in a battle no one can win.

WES ☞ The Cougar Basin War

Ketchum, Philip   LP-2882

The three mounted strangers pulled up close to the fire and one spoke, asking for Ben Carnaby. Startled, Ben began to ask how they knew his name when he became aware that three guns were now covering him. Ben had no idea what this was all about. He stood tense, waiting. What happened next was just the start of the Cougar Basin War!

WES ☞ Kiowa Trail and Killoe

L'Amour, Louis   LP-3284

In "Kiowa Trail", educated in England, raised by Apaches, and hardened in the Civil War, cowboy Conn Dury finds himself helping the sister of dead friend seek revenge against wealthy men who would kill an innocent cow hand for daring to fall in love with one of their daughters. In "Killoe", guiding settlers across unknown territory, Dan Killoe takes on the added responsibility of helping a stranger who is being hunted by renegade Comancheros.

WES ☞ Monument Rock

L'Amour, Louis   LP-2113

In the title story of this collection, a newly sworn in marshal must match wits with a mysterious killer, a man who has made a fortune doing business with his neighbors while secretly cutting their throats. These are Western stories that reveal a time and place of desperate violence and true courage in a wide-open country of fortune seekers, dreamers, lawbreakers and pioneers told with the unparalleled realism and suspense of America's own legend, Louis L'Amour.

WES ☞ Outlaws of Mesquite

L'Amour, Louis   LP-0188

Here are classic tales of frontier bad men, and those who dared to challenge them.

WES ☞ Brand of a Texan

Lawrence, Steven C.   LP-3239

The rider on the gelding stared down at the frontier town. It had changed a great deal since he saw it last but then so had he. His memories of the place were bitter ones because it was here, more than five years ago, that a mob had beaten him for his Union sympathies and then driven him out. Well, now Ruel Crockett was coming back.

WES ☞ Day of the Comancheros

Lawrence, Steven C.   LP-2011

Their very name struck terror into men's hearts, the Comancheros, a savage army of cutthroats who swept across Texas, leaving behind a bloodstained trail of robbery and murder. When Tom Slattery stumbled on some of their slaughtered victims, he found only one survivor, young Anna Peterson; with a cavalry escort, he set out to bring the murderers to justice.

WES ☞ Saddle Justice

Lawrence, Steven C.   LP-2504

He rode into Buffalo, sun-darkened, dusty, and smelling of danger. His name was Roderick, Sergeant Will Roderick out of Fort Abraham Lincoln. The town had lynched his younger brother only days before. Roderick was there to find out who and why, in a town of casual justice and whisky-fast draws, a town that waited for him to make his move.

WES ☞ Ghost of a Gunfighter

Lee, Wayne C.   LP-3100

Dave Paxton had been serving as a scout when he received the letter saying that his uncle had been murdered, three shots in the back by an unknown killer. Now Paxton and his brother, who he hadn't seen since childhood, were to inherit their uncle's land. Only Paxton wanted more than that, he wanted revenge.

WES ☞ Gun Country

Lee, Wayne C.   LP-2513

Brent Clark is trapped into accepting a deadly mission: He must get into well-guarded Gunsight Canyon, convince pretty Virgie Kurtzman that she is really heiress Virginia Pool, and smuggle her out, willingly or otherwise.

WES ☞ Beyond the Pass

Leighton, Lee   LP-2271

Young Robert Buel was a bounty hunter, destined from birth to lead a tough life. He didn't understand how his father could give up roaming and settle in a town like Dirken's Hole. Then Buel was assigned to that same town, to stake out some rustlers and take them dead or alive. In that long, cold winter, Robert Buel finally got to know people, especially himself.

WES ☞ Big Ugly

Leighton, Lee   LP-2505

When he was a kid they called him Big Ugly, among other things. Later the gun in his hand bought a kind of respect Bill learned he didn't like. But by then he was a man, and a man can do things a boy cannot.

WES ☞ The Lonely Breed

Leslie, Frank   LP-3290

(Also available in regular print (AS-1121)). After saving the life of a saloon girl and taking out four hardcases, half-breed Yakima Henry is pursued by a relentless bounty hunter and must rely on his mustang and his Winchester to stay alive.

WES ☞ The Wild Breed

Leslie, Frank   LP-3432

In order to rescue an old flame's brother from a Mexican prison, loner Yakima Henry goes up against deadly Apaches, scalp-hunting Rurales, and a beautiful revolutionary.

WES ☞ Connelly's Expedition

Loomis, Noel   LP-2587

Ross Phillips led the most ambitious trading expedition from Mexico into the United States and back. Fighting the Comanche, the politicians, and attacks by his rivals, he took out bullion worth over three hundred thousand dollars, and brought back goods to the same value.

WES ☉ Hang the Men High

Loomis, Noel   LP-2444

"Vengeance is mine!" shouted the judge, looking up at the twelve empty nooses on the gallows. He turned to the hangman, asking "Have they ever been used all at once?" The hangman moistened his lips as he whispered, "No, but I could do it. And when I hang them, they never come back for more."

WES ☉ Action at Arcanum

Mac Donald, William   LP-2344

Gregory Quist had a twister by the tail when he took on a wild town called Arcanum. He was a railroad troubleshooter whose fame with gun and fist had spread across the West. When violent death claimed Vance McAllister and his lovely young wife, and a land-hungry killer threatened the railroad right-of-way, Quist knew he had a job to do. He rode into Arcanum in a cloud of gun smoke to find the killer and stop him before he struck again.

WES ☉ The Riddle of Ramrod Ridge

Mac Donald, William   LP-2892
Ramrod Ridge was a ghost town and a hideout for the dregs of the frontier that no law-abiding community would tolerate. Here Simon Crawford, a tyrant who ruled with fear and ill-gotten wealth, held absolute power. The trail that led Caliper and Nogales, two footloose and reckless cowboys, to Ramrod Ridge began when they interrupted a necktie party where Crawford's henchmen were trying to extract the whereabouts of a cache of stolen gold.

WES ☉ King of Crazy River

Mac Donald, William C.   LP-2656

Known to everyone as the King of Crazy River, Big Vink Thorpe certainly looked like a king. Tall, handsome, open-hearted, a true cattleman of the old type, he was known and liked throughout the Crazy River country. But one night he was found dead, still clutching a poker hand, three aces and two eights, of sinister significance. Rance Duncan, the murdered man's foreman, was determined to avenge Thorpe's death. And circumstances forced him to play a lone hand in his search for the killer.

WES ☉ Rebel Ranger

Mac Donald, William C.   LP-2736

The valley was being torn apart by a bloody feud. Rifles and six-shooters exploded, lighting the night sky with brilliant lances of flame. A man cursed, the words choking abruptly in his throat.

A horse screamed and fell, tossing its rider to the hoof-churned earth. The once-peaceful Valley was now a scarred battlefield. Into the midst of the fighting walked Johnny Auburn, Texas Ranger, with his six-shooter strapped to his thigh.

WES ☞ Scarlet Saddle

Macrae, Mason   LP-2037

When young Weston Day inherited the biggest ranch in Skull Valley, he also inherited an outsize load of trouble. Day's ranch carried some mighty fine cattle, but the land was coveted by his neighbor, a sheep man, and in the west sheep and cattle don't mix.

WES ☞ Slaughter & Son

Majors, E.   LP-2132

Bert Slaughter is a leather-tough field detective for Wells Fargo, a man with a thousand friends and even more enemies. His son, Ben, carries a college education and a gun. Together they go after Rance Cutler, an outlaw who has terrorized the southwest and now has cracked a string of impregnable Wells Fargo safes. But the father and son have an even stronger reason to want Cutler's hide, he's the man who murdered Bert's wife and got away scot free.

WES ☞ Nightmare Trail

Majors, E. B.   LP-2130

(Slaughter & Son, Book 2) Bert Slaughter is a veteran field detective with a hard-won reputation as the best there is; son Ben has a college sheepskin and a deadly trail instinct to boot. Together they ride for Wells Fargo and for justice, and fight any outlaw foolish enough to take up their challenge.

WES ☞ O'Rourke's Revenge

Martin, L. J.   LP-2987

(Also available in regular print (AR-0891)). Sentenced to death for killing a man in a gunfight, hot-tempered gunslinger Ryan O'Rourke heads south to seek refuge in Mexico where, deep in the Huaqui Mountains, he encounters both his worst enemy and his ultimate destiny.

WES ☞ Wolf Mountain

Martin, L. J.   LP-2774

(Also available in regular print (AN-0284)). Brothers Colin and Kevin McQuade risk everything as they prepare to drive two hundred head of cattle through hostile territory swarming with Crazy Horse's Oglala Sioux and Sitting Bull's Hunkpapa Sioux to the 5th Infantry at the Tongue River, a task complicated by a bloody Indian war, a dangerous St. Louis gambler, and a young woman pursued by a wealthy man's thugs.

WES ☞ The Baynes Clan: Kansas Gambler

Mc Cord, John S.   LP-2569

With the Baynes, what you see is generally what you get. And what people have seen and gotten for years is a family that doesn't look for trouble, but never runs out of it. Cousin Rod Silvana is a different story altogether. With Darnell Baynes's cultured nephew, what you see is the exact opposite of what you get. He seems like an easy mark in a card game, but he's made more money and enemies playing poker than he can count. And he looks like a man you can push around, but a group of cattle rustlers is about to find out that he fights like a Baynes.

WES ☞ Wyoming Giant

Mc Cord, John S.   LP-2501

In his new position at a New York law firm, Luke Baynes finds himself a pawn in the Tammany Hall scandal, appointed as a federal judge by greedy power brokers.

WES ☞ Texas Pride

Mc Guire, Tim   LP-3254

(Also available in regular print (AR-1949)). When gambler and con-artist Rance Cash wins a pile of cash and a champion racehorse named Lone Star in a high-stakes poker game, he garners the hatred of Don Pedro Cuellar de Meyor, a wealthy landowner who claims that Lone Star is his property.

WES ☞ Blood on the Sun

Merriman, Chad   LP-2773

There was the Indian chief's daughter who had been ravished. There was the chief himself, who swore vengeance. There was the renegade who hated red men and white men alike. There was Rita, the spitfire from the cultured East, who trusted no man. And there was Starbright, the guide who feared less a thousand Indians than the bite of Rita's lashing tongue. This is a thrilling novel of violence, hatred and justice, along the Oregon Trail.

WES ☞ Hard Country

Merriman, Chad   LP-2883

Hob Loman had been green when they killed his dad. Now he was grown, big, hard, fearless as his father before him. He rode into Dalles City wearing his vengeance like a badge, his gun triggered for action. Only later did his partner figure that Hob knew all along what he'd find there, the three men who'd hung Burley Loman.

WES ☞ Night Killer

Merriman, Chad   LP-3099

Hack Sumpter made it to Silver City. Bushwhacked, robbed, and left for dead in the desert, he had no right to be alive. There had been a lot of robberies in Silver City lately, and the dead victims couldn't identify their murderers. The citizens of Silver City kept their mouths shut and locked their doors. It looked as though Hack would have to find the killers by himself.

WES ☞ Ride West for War

Merriman, Chad   LP-2988

Early in the Civil War, many states in the West hadn't taken sides: in certain wealthy mining areas, the scale could be tipped one way or the other. And so long as a territory remained neutral, unscrupulous characters could exploit the situation. When this exploitation included the shipment of arms, then the army had good cause to investigate, but not openly. Which is how Lt. Tracy Dalton found himself in Oregon disguised as a mining engineer.

WES ☞ Rogue River

Merriman, Chad   LP-3241

Gold had been discovered where the Rogue and Illinois Rivers spilled into the Pacific. Miners' shacks lined the beach and the town of Sebastopol steadily grew. Luke Prine journeyed into Crescent City once a week carrying gold dust and mail. Then Luke got a warning. Someone had been trading guns for Indian girls.

WES ☞ Comanche Trail

Miller, Jim   LP-3244

Comanche wars have consumed Texas like prairie fire, from Linville to San Antonio. And Mexican renegades have kidnapped Nate Callahan's wife and young son. Nate faces some mighty long odds. Good thing he gets some help in the shape of a posse of Texas rangers, and the dead-eye, multiple-shot Walker-Paterson Colt revolver.

WES ☞ Riding Shotgun

Miller, Jim   LP-3145

Gold Fever sweeps California. And now Finn Callahan is riding shotgun on shipments of the precious metal. But greedy outlaws have grabbed Finn's woman, Tally. Bushwhacking, robbing, murdering, they're after more than just a load of gold. Finn's steel-hard mind has to figure the mystery, while his Colt Dragoon revolver confronts the killers.

WES ☞ Gallows for a Gunman

Miller, Rod   LP-3188

(Also available in regular print (AR-1806)). When Harlow Mackleprang, who raped, murdered, and pillaged his way through the West, returns to Los Santos to rob a bank and kill an innocent man, he is captured and sentenced to die, and the townspeople share their stories of his unspeakable crimes on the eve of his hanging.

WES ☞ Red Buffalo

Mitchum, Hank   LP-0102

Del Harrigan had hung up his guns for a bible, but the outlaws of Red Buffalo bring his past back to life.

WES ☞ For the Norden Boys

Nesbitt, John D.   LP-2728

Down-on-his-luck Tom Atkins accepts a job on a small ranch owned by the Norden brothers. Soon, Tom begins to notice small but troubling things. The townsfolk don't seem too friendly to the Nordens, and some of their neighbors are downright rude. It's not long before Tom realizes exactly what he's gotten himself into by working for the Norden boys.

WES ☞ Bullet Lease

Newton, D. B.   LP-2205

Croy Roth's hatred for young Branch Kindred drove him to desperate measures. First he got Kindred kicked out of his job as ramrod of Anchor. Then he got him thrown in jail on a trumped up charge. He made three savage attempts to kill him. Kindred rolled with each blow, came back bloody but unbowed. He had a job to do in Rock River, and come hell or Croy Roth he was going to tame this bullet range.

WES ☞ Guns of Warbonnet

Newton, D. B.   LP-3250

Ed Martin was returning to his old home in Warbonnet. Eleven years before he had been falsely accused of a crime, horsewhipped, and driven out. But now he was coming back as a U. S. Marshal to find out just what was going on in a community that seemed poised on the brink of a full-scale range war. Killer Mort Browder was part of the picture, the man was capable of almost anything. But Browder couldn't work alone.

WES ☞ Hideout Valley

Newton, D. B.   LP-2512

Jim Bannister did not look like someone on the dodge who had seen his way of life destroyed and himself hounded by all the power of a million dollar combine. For now, under the assumed name of Jim Bryan, he was temporary marshal in Morgan Valley, until he found his own Wanted poster lying on the floor of his office.

WES ☞ Shotgun Freighter

Newton, D. B.   LP-2425

The sleet had turned to snow. Soon every landmark, even the trail itself, was completely lost; Dan felt as though he were on a blind treadmill that was soundless except for this howling fury. Disaster, when it struck, gave no warning at all. With visibility at zero, he had no hint of the near fall-off of the ground until the rear wagon wheel dropped from under him. He tried, at the last moment to leap for safety, but he was too late. The wagon went completely over in a smashing of timbers, and Dan's skull made crushing contact with something.

WES ☞ The Oregon Rifles

Newton, D. B.   LP-2733

Young Barney Stansel had run away from home to join the Oregon Rifles, volunteer soldiers pitted against thousands of marauding Indians terrorizing the Northwest Territories. After an Indian raid that nearly wiped out his entire company, Barney, badly wounded, was left for dead. Rescued by the only other survivor, he had to make a bitter choice. The man who saved him was a deserter, and to stick with him meant being branded with the same iron.

WES ☞ The Oxbow Deed

Newton, D. B.   LP-2605

Two ex-jailbirds rode into Oxbow Valley one day, a used-up and tired old cattle thief and a young robber with a vicious temper who trusted no one. And these were the good guys! They had come to reclaim the old-timer's Cross K, which was still good grazing land and now apparently stocked with Luke Blaine's herds from his vast Broken Arrow spread. The two planned to settle a legal issue and start respectable new lives. Some people, though, weren't too happy to see this kind of men settle down as neighbors, and they displayed their feelings with well-aimed bullets.

WES ☞ Ride the Red Sun Down

Nicholson, Thom   LP-3175

Martin Keller wasn't always a bounty hunter whose infamy reached from Colorado Territory to Mexico. Only after soulless Al Hulett murdered Keller's wife and son did he turn to tracking killers. And any bounty he collects goes toward finding Hulett, and exacting some long-overdue vengeance. But when a wound holds Keller up, he removes the blinders long enough to take in the welcome sight of his nurse, young widow Caroline Thompson.

WES ☞ Come A-Smokin'

Nye, Nelson   LP-2470

Young rancher Grete Marratt sat stone-faced and tight-lipped when the judge asked him why he had shot Deputy Marshal Hugh Clagg in cold blood. With no defense, he was found guilty and sent to Yuma for life. But Marratt escaped, and, with the law at his heels, stepped into another man's identity.

WES ☞ Desert of the Damned

Nye, Nelson   LP-2327

The exploding vengeance of a man who had lost everything but his innocence, this time, Ben Reifel decided, he was really hanging up his gun. Then a man named Breen put the law on him for a killing he'd never done, and he found himself riding toward a showdown he'd never wanted. The law of the gun was still with Ben Reifel, and he began to wonder if it wouldn't always be, at least until he was six feet under.

WES ☯ Gringo

Nye, Nelson   LP-2015

Nobody knew what cards Walt Parras held in the dirty game going on at the Romero Ranch, but the safest way to avoid a surprise was to get rid of him fast. When he went to rep for Romero at Madigan's roundup, Parras was assigned a cowhand who would backshoot him for sure, but they had not reckoned on Parras' will to live.

WES ☯ Gunfight at the O.K. Corral

Nye, Nelson   LP-2250

That deadly day in Tombstone, Wyatt Earp, the most famed and notorious of lawmen, joined forces and stood gun by gun with Doc Holliday, the most feared gambler and badman in the West. It was the strangest alliance the old frontier had ever known, and it reached a bloody climax at the infamous O.K. Corral.

WES ☯ The Clifton Contract

Nye, Nelson   LP-2400

Twenty-five hundred dollars. That's what they offered gunman Ridge Butler. The job seemed fairly easy: seek out a certain rancher, and kill him. But, suddenly, the picture changed. First, Ridge had his money stolen, and then he found himself, not his intended victim, lined up in the sights of a rifle.

WES ☯ The Seven Six-Gunners

Nye, Nelson   LP-2606

Any man who had fought in the Chisum-Murphy feud was bound to have some enemies and Flick Farsom was no exception. But if Flick was looking for a quiet place to hole up in, Tombstone was not the healthiest spot he could have chosen. Hidden in the Arizona mountains were three million dollars in plunder, and seven people bound and determined to get their hands on it. Sure Flick wanted a piece of that treasure for himself. The only trouble was the other people looking for it didn't much care who they had to kill to get it.

WES ☯ The Sure-Fire Kid

Nye, Nelson   LP-2585

A bleak-eyed man with a fast gun hand and an even faster temper, Luke North was on the run from the law. Although he had killed a lot of men in his day, North had been framed for murder by a back-stabber named Towner. Every minute he spent on the dodge, North was busy planning his revenge.

WES ☞ Trouble at Quinn's Crossing

Nye, Nelson   LP-2080

When the little drummer rode his wagon into Quinn's Crossing, few could have foreseen the load of trouble it carried. The product Horatio Gill brought to Quinn's Crossing had sparked many a range war. Gill's goal in life was to sell barbed wire, and he didn't care what happened to the people he sold it to.

WES ☞ Gunfighter Breed

Nye, Nelson C.   LP-3137

This is a fast-moving, slam-bang western yarn based on the actual records of the notorious Black Jack Ketchum gang which used to rob the trains of the Rock Island Railroad. It takes place in the days when guns were for hire by any man who could pay the price, and when the boldness of the outlaws gave men an excuse to take the law into their own hands.

WES ☞ Gunshot Trail

Nye, Nelson C.   LP-2279

From the pen of one of America's finest writers of Westerns comes this suspense-packed narrative of the early days of the range wars between the cattle kings and the shepherders. Into this seething feud came "Black" Clem Andros, whose fearsome legend made men gun-shy. Both sides wanted to hire him, but they found it took more than money to buy his gun.

WES ☞ Ranger's Revenge

Nye, Nelson C.   LP-2417

Ranger Dan Waggoner rode into the flaming maelstrom of an entire country gone mad with fear and greed. Knifings and shootings were the law of the land. Nothing could stop the gang that ruled the Tonto Territory, unless a man took the law into his own hands. Dan Waggoner did.

WES ☞ Saddle Bow Slim

Nye, Nelson C.   LP-3189

When Whit Brown first rode into town, he made two mistakes. He reported a corpse he'd found on the trail and he ran afoul of Curly Bill Graham and his yes-man Marshal Ben Brush. The corpse was one of Curly Bill's gunmen and Whit had no alibi. After Brush threw him in jail, Whit knew he was in bad trouble. Brush gave Whit one chance to make his break for life, but there was a hitch, the only escape route was a dead-end alley.

WES ☞ The Stalking Moon

Olsen, Theodore V.   LP-2270

Sam Vetch didn't know that his wife had been the woman of Salvaje, the Ghost, and that she had borne two sons by the Apache chieftain. When Salvaje came to claim his own, the duel began.

A deadly contest between two men of strong will, courage, and different standards of honor, a duel that must end in tragedy.

WES ☞ Buckskin Man

Overholser, Wayne D. LP-2630

He was a hard-muscled, long-boned man with a face burned to bronze by sun and wind. His buckskin shirt was darkened by dirt and age; his black hat had two bullet holes in it. There was a knife strapped to his left side, a .45 Colt on his right side, and a Winchester rifle on his saddle. Rafe Dolan was a legend. Maybe too much of a legend.

WES ☞ By Gun and Spur

Overholser, Wayne D. LP-2207

Ben Sarboe was tired of risking his life to protect other people. So he gave it up, but now trouble was stirring once more, and Ben didn't know if he was ready to take up a gun again. He was also tired of drifting aimlessly through every dusty town and outlaw village in the West. It was time for him to make a decision: put himself out to pasture for good, or grab the reins, and spit in the face of danger.

WES ☞ Golden Empire

Owen, Dean LP-3041

In the remote mountains of Southern California, the Rio Kid unearthed a nightmare conspiracy. A powerful, evil master was forcing helpless Chinese workers into barbarous slave camps. Torture and death awaited any man who challenged his maniacal dreams. But the Rio Kid vowed to squash this rising Empire of Doom.

WES ☞ Point of a Gun

Owen, Dean LP-2631

When his riders had cut the rope holding the dead man to the beam, Matt Kevney stood for a long moment gazing at the agonized face. He had not known Dave Temple very long, but now Kevney had to avenge his lynching. That it was the work of Sam Justin's hired killers there was no doubt.

WES ☞ All Men are Strangers

Paine, Luran LP-2382

He was a man who had been groomed for violence, raised in the ways of the turbulent West. Life had made him as hard as iron and as wily as an old wolf. He went in search of a cold killer and found, something incredible.

WES ☞ Ambush Canyon

Paine, Luran LP-2343

U.S. Marshal Bob Fulton was an officer who let trouble come to him before he moved to squelch it. But in the case of Big Jim Morton's scheme to involve the other cattlemen in a range war with Travis Quayle's tough Texans, Fulton waited almost too long.

Raiders struck Quayle's camp, stampeded his herd and shot down three of his men. Suddenly Marshal Fulton found himself squarely between two trigger-itchy factions of cowmen sworn to destroy one another, and when the gunsmoke cleared, Fulton had learned his bitter lesson, never wait for trouble.

WES ☿ Apache Trail

Paine, Luran   LP-2101

Will Graham had inscrutable blue, unsmiling eyes and an air of quiet strength. To Karen Maxwell he was the embodiment of Arizona itself, patient and strong and powerful. Even though she had been raised in the state, Karen was still not altogether at home there, and in the same way could not quite understand Will. One of his most incomprehensible traits was his impassiveness in the face of the Apache threat, a threat Karen had learned to fear since earliest childhood. But when the Apaches hit the warpath, this quality would prove to be one of Will's greatest assets.

WES ☿ Outlaw Town

Paine, Luran   LP-2788

When Sheriff Abner Wright went after a bank-robbing outlaw, he had another purpose as well for taking to the trail. He'd heard rumors over the years of a town owned and operated by outlaws, and he wanted to lay them to rest. But what Abner found back in the primitive mountains opened his eyes in a number of ways.

WES ☿ Ride to Battle Mountain

Paine, Luran   LP-3289

Three men, arriving separately, met in the little New Mexico cowtown of Shafter. The only thing they had in common, on first sight anyway, was that each rider had an ivory butt on his sixgun. They had robbed a bank in Laramie, up in Wyoming, and had previously arranged to meet in isolated, insular Shafter. But the fates decreed that each of those three riders would end one phase of his life there, and begin another and before this happened, there would be gunfire.

WES ☿ Rogue River Cowboy

Paine, Luran   LP-2406

To Bess Benton, the big stranger riding into Eureka on a loose rein was just another cowboy, distinguished only by his irritating arrogance. She did not see in Rufe Holt, whose parents lay buried nearby, a nemesis in spurs; a man come back to avenge the dead and solve an ancient mystery.

WES ☿ The Free-Graze War

Paine, Luran   LP-2511

Established ranchers regarded free-grazers as jackals of the cow-country, and wherever they roamed trouble flared up. Buck Handley and Hoyt

McElroy were two such men and when they pushed over three thousand cattle into the Devil's Punch Bowl, old Jethro Graeme told them to get out. Then lead flew.

WES ☞ The Lost Trail

Paine, Lauran   LP-2881

Town Marshal Will Chance had a two-bit stage robbery to investigate. What he discovered involved the richest and biggest cowman in Morgan Valley, and that man's long-kept secret. Before the smoke finally settled, Will had dead men to bury, and a beautiful woman to break bad news to.

WES ☞ The Outcast

Paine, Lauran   LP-2537

He saw it as he came out of the arroyo, a sickening redness of the lowering sky. There was a running sore of flame and wreckage against the deep-brooding night. The cabin and barn were blazing. He saw it with a stunned horror that was almost suffocating. He ran and ran. His father was outside, face down, sprawled and shot dead, shot three times. He never saw his mother, for she was in the log house. But he knew what had happened to her.

WES ☞ The Saddlegun Man

Paine, Lauran   LP-2875

When Marshal Gil Stevens' territory was invaded by a band of very clever renegades, he had the devil's own time of it trying to figure out how they worked, why they remained out in the countryside, how they escaped, and, ultimately, who they were. Gil had begun to suspect he would never find them when an old cowman named Rufus Irons was savagely beaten.

WES ☞ The Time of the Texan

Paine, Lauran   LP-3228

In the Old West, the peril to South Texas from Mexican marauders was a constant danger. Men retired for the night with the knowledge that next day they might arise robbed of their livestock, left destitute, or having to dig graves for their neighbors. The Mexicans never forgave the Texans for rebelling against Mexico and establishing a republic of Texas or for joining the United States. National boundaries were violated, men killed, and blood shed in South Texas.

WES ☞ The Trail Drive

Paine, Lauran   LP-2275

Burt Sommers was the DB rangeboss. His riding crew consisted of Sut, Pete, Jack and Morgan. By taking a mountain pass as a shortcut, they could deliver seventeen hundred head of upgraded bred cows to Florence Basin in less time than by using the regular trail. But in that dark, overgrown canyon, they were attacked by renegade whites and outlaw Indians. Then they were all nearly killed by a landslide. They buried Jack and staggered on, and were attacked by possemen who mistook them for renegades. Every one of them emerged from that canyon a different man.

WES ☞ The War-Wagon

Paine, Lauran   LP-2386

Dick Chase came from Nebraska to take over his uncle's cow outfit when the old man died. Dick was an experience, pragmatic cowman, and until he discovered that some long yearling replacement heifers had been rustled, he had demonstrated nothing but everyday cow-savvy. But after that, when he found the rustlers and uncovered a scheme he could scarcely believe, he became something different: a manhunter.

WES ☞ Hunt the Man Down

Patten, Lewis B.   LP-3140

It all began with a raging snowstorm and a woman's terrified scream. And suddenly Mike Logan found himself forced to flee for his life, accused of a crime he never committed, and hunted by a powerful rancher who vowed to shoot him down like an animal. Enduring a crippling wound, cold, hunger, and the treachery of those he'd reckoned as friends, Logan swore that if death was in the cards, he'd also deal the hand of his vicious pursuer.

WES ☞ The Law in Cottonwood

Patten, Lewis B.   LP-2687

Marshal Morgan Gaunt was worried. Cottonwood, Kansas, was about to be stampeded by the cattle drivers from Texas, thirsty for liquor and hungry for women. Their lusts were satisfied by an influx of gamblers, barmen, and saloon girls. Cottonwood needed the trade that accompanied the cowboys, but trembled at the hell that invariably broke loose. A curfew and ban on firearms was declared, an ordinance Gaunt knew he couldn't enforce.

WES ☞ Guns of Hell Valley

Prescott, John   LP-3101

Men aflame with hate, women with violent homeward hungers, these were the last desperate outcasts of bullet-torn Lincoln County. Then, out of the dying ashes of their vengeance, rose a gun king who swore: "I'll bring you home from hell!"

WES ☞ The Renegade

Prescott, John   LP-3242

When Clay got out of jail he found the country turned against him. Now Robey, the man who had framed him for the killing, had Clay over a barrel. He could either ride for Robey or get out. Then Clay found his best friend dead, shot in the back by one of Robey's gunslingers. Clay made his choice. He was going to face Robey.

Roderus, Frank   LP-3252

The payroll belonging to Willow Creek's miners has been stolen. A posse finds Wes Johnson in possession of five thousand dollars. They declare him guilty and string him up. They're wrong and fortunately for Wes, they're also careless. He survives his own hanging and gets a second chance. Now he's plotting his revenge. And he'll have to stay one step ahead because these self-appointed executioners aren't likely to make the same mistake twice.

WES ☞ Winter Kill

Roderus, Frank   LP-3235

Old Jug's been a ranch hand for more years than he can remember, but he can still ride and rope with the best of them. When Jug uncovers a scheme to rustle cattle from under his watch, someone wants him out of the way and he's fired from the only job he's ever known. Now, Jug's going to find out who's responsible, and show them just how much fight one old cowboy has left.

WES ☞ Expedition

Ross, Dana F.   LP-0141

Clay Holt leads a perilous expedition up the Yellow River.

WES ☞ The Devil's Corral

Savage, Jr. Les   LP-2657

(Also available in regular print (AL-0180)). Includes "The Devil's Corral," in which an obstinate horse named Devil gives Ed Ketland a run for his money; "Satan Sits a Big Bronc," in which a carpetbag governor hires a gang of outlaws to enforce his new laws; and "Senorita Scorpion," in which Chisos Owens embarks on a mission of revenge to find the enigmatic Scorpion.

WES ☞ Holster Law

Scott, Bradford   LP-2632

Three hundred trigger-happy cowhands are on a march from Texas to the cattle market at Dodge City. Suddenly a herd owner and his range boss were found murdered. Suspicions flared. Trigger fingers began itching. Nearly every cowhand present was a Texan, and a Texan isn't given to arguing with words.

WES ☞ Raiders of the Rio Grande

Scott, Bradford   LP-3238

"A belly full of lead for the man who opens the door!" Slade muttered as he looked through the cabin window and saw the shotgun lashed to the table rigged to blast when the door was disturbed. "An old trick," the Ranger thought, "deadly only if you're careless." Standing out of the line of fire, he smashed in the door with a log, and the shotgun fired its load squarely into a bundle of dynamite!

WES ☞ Rangers at Bay

Scott, Bradford   LP-2789

Shocked and enraged, Walt Slade read the venomous editorial. His honor as a Texas Ranger was tarnished by the vicious, lying attack, but, as an undercover agent, he could not protest. He knew the slander was just another weapon in the brewing range war. But the attack turned personal when hot lead whined at Slade from ambush.

WES ☞ The Lonely Buckaroo

Scott, Leslie   LP-2888

Blaine Mason had just sold the Bar Six ranch and left behind the coast with its storms and its damp heat. He was heading for a new home, perhaps in the Panhandle, or in the Rio Grande Valley. A brief stopover would give him time to decide and to enjoy himself. But then Blaine was drugged and robbed of all his money.

WES ☞ The Texan

Scott, Leslie   LP-2734

No one saw Justin Slone move. One second his hands were empty, the next, two blackened muzzles threatened death! Justin Slone was the only man in Tombstone with guts enough to call the play of the notorious Brocius gang. So Justin Slone was marked for death. But he was an iron-hard Texan with crushing fists and a greased-lightning draw.

WES ☞ Tascosa Gun

Shelton, Gene   LP-0190

When his boss's cattle are stolen, Jim East becomes part of the west's biggest manhunt, and begins his career as a lawman. Little did Jim know that big trouble was brewing.

WES ☞ Shadow Valley

Shirreffs, Gordon D.   LP-2035

Thirty-five of Drake Manning's hardcases swept over Holt Cooper's ranch like a plague of locusts. They used wire cutters, bullets and fire. When they were done the place was a shambles. Then they went after Cooper, but chasing him was like chasing a phantom. Every time they killed one of his cows he killed two of theirs, but now Cooper was down to his last load of cartridges, and Manning's gunslingers prepared to move in for the kill.

WES ☞ Deep Hills

Stuart, Matt   LP-2381

In this blazing western story of range warfare, cowman Britt Larkin of the Deep Hills gambles his life to fight for the homesteaders.

WES ☞ Gun Law at Vermillion

Stuart, Matt   LP-2383

Vermillion was tough, a raw Nevada frontier town where murderous hatreds smoldered, where killers walked the streets without fear of the law. There was no law in Vermillion, not even a sheriff. This is the story of Clay Orde, who came to Vermillion wearing a gun and looking for a man.

WES ☯ Saddle-Man

Stuart, Matt   LP-0189

Hell is brewing in Indio Basin and ex-Marshall Bruce Martell has the misfortune of riding right into the middle of it.

WES ☯ Deadwood

Tompkins, Walker A.   LP-2873

Behind Vince Meade was the harrowing memory of the massacre at the Little Big Horn. Custer, the Boy General, had left a legacy for him, a mission of justice. Vince had to round up a cowardly turncoat who bore the blood of cavalrymen. Plunging into the raw region that few returned from, Vince found that the trail led to Deadwood, where King Colt ruled with hangman's rope and a bottle of rotgut.

WES ☯ Lion of the Lavabeds

Tompkins, Walker A.   LP-3039

The Indian Kintupash was a foe worthy of Bob Pryor, the Rio Kid. This savage warrior combined subtle cunning with lion-like courage as he led his marauding band against the white settlers. Pryor grudgingly admired the enemy who was leading him deeper and deeper into danger, while a white traitor waited for a clear shot at the Rio Kid's back.

WES ☯ Siege at High Meadow

Trimble, Louis   LP-2880

Eight long years had not dulled the hatred that Cordell held for Mont Langsford. Eight long years had only given the manhunter the chance to track Langsford down, to get him with his back to Boot Hill. Eight years of pain and humiliation now looked down the barrel of Cordell's carbine.

WES ☯ The Hostile Peaks

Trimble, Louis   LP-2884

Someone had stolen a shipment of Army guns and ammunition, and that could mean real trouble for the isolated settlers in that mountainous territory. Clint Larabee had been sent to find the missing guns, but by the time he was sure he knew where they were, there didn't seem to be much he was likely to be able to do about it.

WES ☯ Buchanan's Gamble

Ward, Jonas   LP-3042

The killers had taken over the town, lock, stock, and barrel, and they weren't going to leave until there was nothing left to loot. They had the bank and the saloon and the sheriff's office and the poker game. And you had to like it or you ended up dead. But Buchanan didn't like it.

WES ☯ Buchanan's Revenge

Ward, Jonas   LP-3103

They said in Texas that Tom Buchanan ate raw wildcat for breakfast and that he was slow to anger like a rattler dozing in the desert sun. But now every saloon and dance hall had heard the news: Buchanan was cleaning his guns for the outlaws who had shot his best friend in the back.

WES ☯ The Gun and the Law

Wayne, Joseph   LP-2286

Deputy Sheriff Brady Royal, all alone, had one purpose in life, to avenge the death of his brother, his friend the sheriff, and the innocent people who were all murdered by two killers. A bullet through the heart was too tame. He wanted to watch the killers swing. One was as sly and dangerous as a wolf. The other was a madman with the cunning of a rattler. They knew that their only chance to stay alive was to kill Brady Royal. They roamed the empty land, and only his gun could stop them.

WES ☯ Gunsmoke: Blizzard of Lead

West, Joseph A.   LP-3138

Marshal Matt Dillon and all of the other favorites from the long-running TV show are standing tall in this brand-new Western adventure series. A shoot-out on the trail has left Deputy Festus badly wounded and Matt with a broken leg. Back in Dodge City, the Cattleman's Bank has been robbed, there are dead bodies in the street, and the bandits have escaped. Barely able to walk, Marshal Dillon is determined to lead the posse.

WES ☯ Gunsmoke: The Reckless Gun

West, Joseph A.   LP-3251

Marshal Matt Dillon's session with a fortune-teller, who sees blood, betrayal, and violent death in his future is interrupted by gunfire. Outside, wealthy rancher Colonel Roberts lies wounded, shot by Tom Gillespie as payback for the massacre of thirty-three Confederate prisoners, including Gillespie's father, and the theft of more than thirty thousand dollars in Yankee gold.

WES ☯ Hangman's Song

West, Charles G.   LP-3316

(Also available in regular print (AR-1163)). When Preacher Nathaniel Rix and his sons bring a new kind of religion, one that involves guns, to the settlers on the Western frontier, annihilating sinners and saints alike, Jordan Gray, haunted by the tragic death of his wife and son, vows to teach this twisted man of the cloth a valuable lesson.

WES ☞ Shootout at Picture Rock

West, Joseph A.   LP-3234

(Also available in regular print (AR-2206)). U.S. Marshal John Kilcoyn and his friend, county sheriff Bat Materson, battle against renegade Indians, relentless bushwackers, and a former frontier lawman bent on revenge to rescue a local doctor and his daughter.

WES ☞ Rattlesnake Range

West, Tom   LP-2887

Brick Riley has come to Painted Rock because he'd heard there was a shooting feud storming up between the cattle ranchers and the sodbusting homesteaders. That kind of situation was ideal for Riley; he was a hired gun, and it wasn't long before he had a job with the Circle C. They stationed him on the only reliable waterhole for miles around, to run the nesters off. But when Riley saw how poor the families were, he couldn't stomach the job.

WES ☞ Renegade Roundup

West, Tom   LP-2889

Burt Craig was riding with the wolves, and he didn't much like the company. He'd joined that bandit gang in hopes of getting back his own stake, and so far all he'd got was the chance to ride in another holdup, and maybe stop lead, or get hung if he got caught. Who'd ever swallow his story?

WES ☞ Scorpion Showdown

West, Tom   LP-3291

Sam Moreland rode into trouble as blindly as a steer steps into quicksand and now he was sitting in a courtroom, irons on his wrists, and listening as all the evidence against him combined to fashion a hang noose. The only way he was going to get out of this was by finding the real Garrote Gang that had done the mischief he was being blamed for. No one even knew what they looked like because they never left any witnesses alive to tell.

WES ☞ The Buzzard's Nest

West, Tom   LP-2790

The place was called Copper Valley, but the treasure it held was in gold and greenbacks. The outlaw who had stolen and hidden it was floating in the Rio Grande with a knife in his back. The stranger who was searching for it met seven devious men, all driven by maddening greed. And the law stood by, unable to halt the inevitable clash.

WES ☞ Thunder Brakes

Wilson, Cherry   LP-2138

The February blizzard was raging around the little depot of Blue Buttes like a wild monster. Tex Rankin and his cowboy partner, the earnest Dell Young, were awaiting the midnight train to whisk them down south. Then the wind blew in a slim young girl,

June Hale, who was looking for two men to help on her ranch, the Curly Q, while she went to attend to her injured father. Moved by her plight, Tex and Dell agreed. They watched her board the train going south, and then heard that the Curly Q was about to go under!

WES ☉ Massacre Basin

Wynne, Frank   LP-2879

"When I'm gone the wolves will come out of their holes and gang up on Hat." Such was the prophecy by which Nora Parrott had inherited the mighty Parrott Hat ranch, and by which her foreman, Clay Sebastian, was bound. And they knew who would lead the wolves; Buck DeSpain, whose methods were wilier but equally ruthless.
