Dear Patron,

Spring is the best time for new beginnings and romances. I found myself picking up BV-9631 Romancing Mr. Bridgerton by Julia Quinn in preparation for the new season on Netflix and have queued up a few audiobooks on Hoopla and the Palace Project in preparation for a new beginning of my own. Please refer to the quarterly calendars provided on page three to see when I will be on leave in June and plan for a small delay until my return. There is also a calendar you may reference on the Books by Mail website at nmstatelibrary.org/BBM.

The Bookmobile staff drive hundreds of miles and work hard to provide in-person library services to the rural communities of New Mexico. This does create a lot of wear and tear on the vehicles so Books by Mail is temporarily welcoming over a hundred patrons from the East Bookmobile as the staff work on getting necessary repairs done so they can be back on the road as soon as possible. I will do my best to provide reading materials to all in a timely manner. The Bookmobile staff and I appreciate your patience.

Emily Withnall, the editor of El Palacio and host of the Encounter Culture Podcast, interviewed Laura, the Northeast Bookmobile Manager, and I to discuss how our programs bring the library experience to patrons who cannot visit a public library. Laura went into detail about how her Bookmobile serves schools in addition to the patrons who live in rural areas and I mentioned my dream of someday expanding the Books by Mail program into two offices, one here in Santa Fe and another in the Southern part of the state, with more staff members to serve all of New Mexico.

Our interview will be available online at podcast.nmculture.org after May 29th.

I celebrated my one year anniversary as the Books by Mail Librarian in March. It passed by so quickly I can hardly believe it! As always, I’m happy to help. Please feel free to reach out to me for assistance.

Happy spring!

-Berdina, Books by Mail Librarian
Below is the artwork I created and submitted for the episode cover of the Encounter Culture Podcast interview representing The New Mexico State Library Rural Services.

- Berdina

12. How has Books by Mail positively impacted your life and benefited you/your household?
“Being able to access large print books and books through Hoopla has been an absolute joy. I am not able to get out much, so reading has filled an otherwise empty day. I'm hard of hearing, so TV is not as enjoyable as before - Books by Mail and Hoopla are tremendous benefits. From first thing in the morning (with my cup of coffee) to last thing at night, I'm in the books. Thank you for this much-appreciated service. I love my local library, but BBM has opened up many more "shelves" for me.”

13. What challenges would you face in accessing library materials and how would your reading habits be affected without Books by Mail?
“I would have to drive 25 miles or more to the nearest library. There would be very little large print books and I would not be able to read as much as I do now. I’d might have to rely on a paid service to access the type of books I enjoy.”

14. Do you also borrow materials from the Bookmobiles or the Library for the Blind and Print Disabled
81% - No, I do not borrow from either program
14% - Yes, I borrow from the Bookmobiles
5% - Yes, I borrow from LBPD

15. Books by Mail supports my:
49% - Recreational reading
17% - Continuing education
15% - Skill Learning
10% - Family Library use
10% - Other

Thank you for taking the Books by Mail survey!
Books by Mail Rules and Reminders

General Guidelines

- Contact our library to extend the six week loan period before the book is due since books with a waitlist are not eligible for extension.
- Please take care of all library materials. Handle them with care so that they may be enjoyed by the next patron.
- While overdue or damaged books are not charged with fines, please communicate with the library about their status to avoid disruptions in your library service.
- Please do not return any empty bags; save them until you have books to return to help the library save on postage.
- The voicemail, email, and Symphony catalog are happy to accept your requests until the library is able to place orders or make adjustments. Submit an order however is convenient for you!
- Please contact the library with any changes to keep your contact information accurate.

Book Orders and Holds

- Books requested beyond the maximum allowance of 10 will be added to your hold queue.
- Unavailable books are automatically added to your hold queue. Placing multiple holds on the same title can result in it being sent to you multiple times.
- Make sure you write your name or patron ID# on the order cards when sending them in.
- Request any and all books! I'll make every effort to locate it from another library or purchase it if necessary. If you want to read it, then someone else may want to as well.

Large Print Books

- Large print books have a call number starting with LP. Large print books are between 14 and 16 pt font and are typically written in a serif font.
- If you’re eligible for free matter, please keep standard printed books and large print separated. Large print books are the only items that qualify as free matter for the blind and physically handicapped. There is still no charge to you and our library does not want to lose this privilege.
- Red or purple free matter bags do not require additional sealing beyond the zipper closure for postal inspection.

Book Donations

We gladly accept book donations in good condition. Please include a note that the book is intended as a donation so it can be added to the library collection.

Canceling Services

Please return all library materials and contact the library at 1.800.395.9155 option 1, Books.byemailNM@dca.nm.gov to cancel services. It may take one to three months to stop receiving the Quarterly.

Appreciating Poetry

This poem by a Books by Mail patron has charmed our staff members since it was received in 2012 and adorns the office door so that everyone who passes by or visits may see and admire it.

Books by Mail by Pat Morrison

Out here in the boondocks
It’s hard to find good books
No bookstore or library
No matter how hard one looks

The bookmobile comes once a month
Or sometimes not at all
But Books By Mail can fill the void
And heed our desperate call

When snow is deep upon the hill
We can stay snug at home
Enjoying all the books you send
Or writing a silly poem

Here we solve great mysteries
Or travel to places far,
Or go on an adventure,
Or learn to fix a car

A chance to learn how to garden,
A hobby or how to cook
Is all here at our fingertips
Because you sent us a book
